The Klan Wins Tammany and 'Al.' Smith Orchids Now, Men Later The King's Legs

Current Events

By Arthur Brisbane

EDWARD JACKSON, indorsed by the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, has swept the State for the Governorship nomination. He got more votes than all five of the other candidates put together. Lew Shank, Mayor of Indianapolis, most important candidate against Jackson, and enemy of the Klan, was wiped out, 10 to 1.

THIS ELECTION is important outside of Indiana, and indicates that the Ku Klux Klan has gained either than lost strength, and will play an important part in the coming national election.

TAMMANY HALL, ancient, profitable political institution of New York, is puzzled, following the death of its chief, Murphy.

Under ordinary conditions, "Al" Smith, who for years has been real boss of Tammany Hall, would name a new chief to work under his orders.

But "Al" Smith at this moment is a candidate for the Presidency. He is taking the thing seriously. And, for reasons that will be understood west of Hoboken, "Al" Smith doesn't want to be tied up too closely with Tammany. That isn't exactly ingratitude. It is true that "Al" Smith has been in Tammany all his life, and has made every dollar that he has through Tammany, and got every office that he ever got through Tammany. But in politics it's necessary to forget. And it is only reasonable caution for "Al" Smith, as Presidential candidate, to cross to the other side of the street and look vague when the Tammany Tiger nods to him.

PROFESSOR KNUDSON, of Cornell University, shows that orchids can be fully grown with a saving of two years' time.

The extraordinary results are obtained by feeding to the plants certain essential salts and sugars while keeping them free from the microscopic organisms that destroy plant life.

SOME DAY men will learn how to feed themselves and how to protect themselves from germs. Not so many centuries from now, perhaps five hundred or a thousand, the average length of life will be above 140 years, and the only animal living on earth will be man. Whales and elephants will disappear along with the microbes.

ALL ENGLAND'S art critics, and half the population of the British Islands, are discussing the portrait of the King by Charles Sims, in the Royal Academy. Some critics say "the face lacks dignity." Others say "the legs lack character." The artist admits that somebody, not the King, "posed for the legs."

Just why a King's legs have more character than other legs is not stated. The interesting

PNEUMONIA CONQUERED AT LAST?

Harvard Medical School Using New Serum With Remarkable Results

Has medical science at last conquered one of its greatest foes—pneumonia?

Statements made today by Dr. Lloyd D. Felton of the Department of Preventative Medicine at Harvard would indicate that a serum has been discovered which will not only prevent pneumonia, but will be of greatest assistance in curing the patient attacked with the disease.

Dr. Felton and his co-workers make no boasts or claims for the new serum. But a statement of what has been accomplished in the Harvard laboratories indicates that the age-old fight of the medical profession against pneumonia is rapidly nearing a successful conclusion.

Guinea-pigs, rats and others of the smaller animals injected with the new serum have been immune to pneumonia cultures when introduced into their systems.

60 PATIENTS TREATED.

The same animals, first infected with live pneumonia cultures, have either been cured of the disease or greatly benefitted by injections of the serum.

Sixty patients at the Boston City hospital are being treated with the serum with most encouraging results.

These statements were made at the New England Health Institute being held at the Hancock building, by Dr. Felton.

For months these experiments have been conducted in the Harvard laboratories under the direction of Dr. Hilton J. Rosenau, head of the department of preventative medicine, and his colleagues.

The serum itself was not discovered at Harvard. It was discovered by a group of New York physicians almost a year ago and was turned over to Dr. Rosenau and his associates for the purpose of experimenting to determine whether or not the serum was of value.

The serum consists of the blood of a horse that has been infected with pneumonia. It is known as anti-pneu-

LODGE PLAN FOR WORLD COURT

Washington, May 8.—Establishment of a world court at The Hague, to which the United States would adhere, was proposed today in a resolution introduced by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee.

For the purpose of creating the new tribunal, President Coolidge would be "respectfully requested to propose the calling of the third Hague conference."

The resolution embodied a complete plan for the proposed court. It would be composed of sixteen judges —four of them deputies—who would be selected by an electoral commission.

This commission would consist of "a general committee composed of representatives designated by the

J. MITCHEL GALVIN IS DEAD

Former City Clerk, Prominent in Politics, Succumbs to Operation

J. Mitchell Galvin, for eight years city clerk of Boston, died at the Peter Brent Brigham today, following an operation for double hernia.

Mr. Galvin, whose home was at No. 10 Lyndhurst street, Dorchester, underwent the operation several days ago.

He failed to rally from the shock.

HOOSAC TUNNEL JOB.

Mr. Galvin was born in 1850 in Charlestown, the son of John Galvin, for many years superintendent of public grounds and of Bainsford Island.

J. Mitchell Galvin

After attending the Bunker Hill and Dwight schools, the latter in the South End, he entered the contracting business, building up his venture until he secured part of the contract for boring the Hoosac Tunnel.

In 1881 he entered the employ of Kidder, Peabody & Co. and was sent to Mexico by this concern for three years.

On his return in 1884 he engaged with his brother, Thomas, in the florist business. Seven years later, however, he succeeded Edwin U. Curtis as city clerk, an office that he held for eight years, resigning to become New England representative for some Colorado mines.

QUITS DEMOCRATS.

His first venture into politics was as a member of the district school committee in Jamaica Plain. Next he became Democratic candidate for the House and, although defeated in a strong Republican district, received a flattering vote.

In 1905 he left the Democratic party and became a Republican. He was considered the logical candidate for Mayor, but surprised his friends by declining to run.

Three years later he waged the memorable fight for Congress in the Tenth Congressional District against Joseph F. O'Connell. This campaign was the historic battle that O'Connell won by only four votes. The

Lamont Says Brother-in-Law of Broker Carried Away the Books Just Before Crash

John R. Diggins, brother-in-law of George Redmond, was named in Federal court today as the man who took the books from the offices of G. F. Redmond & Co., Inc., the night before the company went into bankruptcy.

James S. Lamont, president of the defunct company, named Diggins in an effort to purge himself of contempt of court.

Lamont has been in East Cambridge jail for two weeks because he refused to produce certain important books and some $10,000 in securities he ordered removed from the Redmond safe the evening of March 4.

After a week of jail diet the dapper president of the alleged bucket shop turned the bonds over to the receivers and asked Judge Morton to free him. The judge didn't see it that way.

A week later Lamont appeared in court again and admitted he had burned the books after they had been taken to his Natick farm by a "certain party."

Today he told the court a detailed story of the affair.

TELLS OF BURNING BOOKS.

Under questioning by Receiver Bartholomew Brickley, Lamont related having told Diggins on March 4 to take the books from the Redmond offices and keep them until further orders.

Two nights later Lamont said he telephoned Diggins and told him to carry the books to Natick.

Diggins made the trip to Natick in an automobile, Lamont said.

"I gave him a drink and helped unload the books from the rear of the car," said Lamont. "Diggins then went back to town."

Lamont said that after thinking the matter over he decided the books should be burned.

So he carried the bulky ledgers out to the cabbage patch and made a pile of brush. The pages showing collateral received and delivered were soon reduced to ashes, he said.

Three days later this morning Lamont's chauffeur, Walter, drove up to the farmhouse and Lamont departed to the Copley-Plaza for the night.

"Did the chauffeur say anything about the fire when he came in?" asked Mr Brickley.

"No, he didn't," answered Lamont. "He would not have done so even had he noticed it."

Q—Would those books be valuable now in helping to trace securities that came into the firm's hands?

A.—They might be.

Lamont said the books contained

Alleged Vagabond Picked Up $200 in Day Plying His Trade in West End

Beggar in rags by day! Man-about-town, snappily garbed and be-diamonded at night!

A nonchalant soul who collects pennies, nickels and dimes from the sympathetic and ends spats with his wife by a careless bestowal of $50 in long, green tokens.

The owner of the best baby carriage in Brighton. A "Peeping Tom" in odd hours, occasionally a burglar—but always a spender among spenders when the lamps are lit.

A Beau Brummel, swinging his cane as he departs his home for "business" in the morning—returning home at night in a taxicab after a hard day's begging.

The police arrested him today in the West End, as he sat, bent and with pathos in his face, one leg doubled under from a wound he declares he suffered in the World War.

BRAND WAR WOUND "FAKE."

But the police, in addition to declaring the facts above, assert that George Nelson, boulevardier of Roxbury and Brighton, obtained the injury for which he begs, when he was struck by an automobile on the State road between Boston and Worcester.

But despite the source of his injury, one that makes him limp but slightly and precludes the use of a cane except for show purposes, according to his friends, the nickels and dimes were showered down into the cup in a steady rain on West End streets.

On some days he collected $65, he has told "pals." Other days ran his money bag nearly as full. On the day of the veterans' "Poppy Drive" he made $200, he told this same "pal."

The alleged beggar with the red eye cut clothes lives at No. 47 Julian street, Roxbury, with his wife when he is home with his family. At other times he lives with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Maray Grace, at No. 165 Union street, Brighton.

COMES HOME IN TAXI

The Roxbury home is in a three-family house, in a quiet neighborhood. Here, neighbors declared today, Nelson is "very well to do."

He is contemplating buying an automobile, according to one neighbor who accompanied him to look at one car.

The Nelsons—his wife was formerly Miss Annie Grace of Brighton—are parents of a pretty, three-year-old daughter, passenger of what Brighton neighbors declare is the best baby carriage in Brighton.

According to the police, Nelson is employed by his neighbors to be a bookkeeper in a lawyer's office, has been panhandling for a year in the West End.

Each morning they charged, he leaves either the Roxbury or Brighton home, swiftly clad in the most gleaming of black serge, a cane swinging in his right hand, his left leg limping slightly.

Each day he has changed his clothes in a Howard street tailor shop in the West End, according to the police, and has undergone the transformation to beggar.

Each night, his pocketbook comfortably heavy, he returns home in a taxicab.

HAS POLICE RECORD

Behind him only a few months in his twenty-four years of life trails a police and court record, with accompanying jail sentences, that dates from 1915, when he was sent to the Lyman School for robbery.

In 1919 he was arrested for attacking an Allston woman, according to the police. The cases was dropped for want of prosecution.

In 1920 he was arrested as a "Peeping Tom" in Brighton and was placed on probation. Again in 1920 he was held for the Grand Jury for burglary at the home of Charles Lilley, No. 21 Gardner street, Brighton. For the third time in 1920 he was held in Superior Court in Cambridge on four counts of robbery.

And in 1923 he was sentenced to a year in jail on a "Peeping Tom" and impersonating an officer charges.

This is the life story of Edgar F. Nelson up to the time that Patrolman Paul Crowley wrestled a pair of bobbed cuffs on his left wrist.

Day after day Paul Crowley, in his role of police beat sleuth, went to the square in his left sole, has toured his beat in the West End and rimmed a bit with reference to a party squatted in rags on the pavement with one leg curled under him and a pair of battered crutches lend his pitiful atmosphere.

The solicitude of Crowley has been ease and to the point.

Rich man, poor man, beggar man thief.

Doctor, lawyer, man midwife.

Which one do you be?

If not take the word of the ragged one on the pavement, for was a World War veteran, shot torn and heart anguished, much in need of financial assistance and capable only of dispensing it through public largess and benefaction.

But Crowley was toasted one day Nelson would recall that his service had been in the olive drab of the army. On the next day his mien were would lend in the view of the navy blue.

While in the throes of his specialty the policeman contented himself with suggesting the evidence of Nelson's location a block or less for future appearances if nothing else.

The veering memory of Nelson began to tug at the affiliation that climed to make Crowley recognize, however. He met about him a bit and decided that his friends should be left to a plunge into a detective role.

He picked up the trail of Nelson before it was time for the vagabond to go on duty in his rags and crutches. When the trail was picked up the rags and crutches were not in evidence.

Asked if he could remember any others who had forgotten to sign the book, Lamont said that Redmond's secretary, Miss Lou Taylor, had left after 6 o'clock that same night and her signature did not appear on the book.

The questioning then shifted to the matter of some alleged "dummy accounts" on the Redmond books. Asked if he had done any trading for his own account through various brokers Lamont replied in the negative. Asked concerning Redmond's connection with these accounts Lamont said he refuse to answer on the grounds it might tend to incriminate me.

pneumococcus serum or anti-pneumonia serum.

The medical profession throughout the world has been awaiting announcement of the results of the tests in the Harvard laboratories.

Dr. Felton in his statement, today intimated that more detailed statements would be issued concerning the serum within the next day or two.

The Harvard physician made it clear that no elaborate claims are being made for the serum.

"It will take years before the serum has been thoroughly and completely tested," he said.

DREADED DISEASE.

Pneumonia has long been regarded as one of the most deadly diseases known to the human family in subjected.

In number of deaths it ranks along with heart disease and tuberculosis and during the past half century but little or no progress has been made in the treatment of the malady.

While a number of serums and other treatments have been developed from time to time, these never stood up under the tests and for that reason the guarded announcement of the Harvard experts is regarded as one of the most important that has been made in medical circles in many years.

EMPLOYER AIDS R. I. MURDER SUSPECT

Backs Up Alibi With Affidavit and Accuses Police of Lying About Case

Providence, R. I., May 8.—Antony Amaral, the young Portuguese who will be arraigned next Wednesday on a complaint charging him with abducting and slaying nine-year-old Clementine Cosmo, thrills with renewed confidence in his cell at Cranston over recent developments in the employers of their deep and abiding belief in his innocence.

In a sworn affidavit given to counsel for the young farmhand, Elisha Jordan, one of the managing owners of Echo Farm in Lincoln, not only repudiates but denounces the action of Providence police officials in quoting him in the newspapers as having "withdrawn his support" of Amaral's alibi.

FAMILY BACKS HIM.

"Not only that," says Attorney Walter Sundlun on behalf of the prisoner "but Elisha Jordan, his brother Farnham, their mother, Mrs. Sarah Jordan and young Arnold Illingsby, the fourth member of the household at Echo Farm, will come into court whenever we call upon them and will testify that Amaral spent the entire day of Tuesday, April 22, on or about Echo Farm."

It was 12:45 p. m. on Tuesday, April 22, according to police witnesses, that the little girl stepped into an automobile driven by a "dark young man" and was whisked away to outrage and death.

READY TO AVENGE

"Fortified by such an alibi," Attorney Sundlun tells the American, "my present inclination is to meet the other side next Wednesday with a challenge.

"Experience and discretion may suggest another course but I am mightily tempted right now to place the Jordan brothers, their excellent mother, and young Illsley on the witness stand next Wednesday, have them tell all they know, and, with account for Tony Amaral's every minute on the day of the childs disappearance, demand that that the Government, in like manner, place its cards on the table face up.

"As I say, two courses are open to me. The usual course would be to appear in the Sixth District Court at the appointed time, waive the reading of the complaint, waive examination, and Amaral be bound over, to await the action of the Grand Jury.

"But our case is peculiar, unusual, in that the prisoner is absolutely innocent, and we have perfect faith in that innocence, and the four persons able to account for his time, minute by minute, on the murder day are ready, willing and even anxious to acquit his honorable client at the earliest possible minute."

TALKS WITH JORDAN.

Mr. Sundlun's statement to the American was made immediately after his return from Echo Farm, where, accompanied by William Needham, the young attorney associated with him in Amaral's defense, he talked with the members of the Jordan family and young Illsley.

The most important result of that visit was the sworn affidavit in which Elisha Jordan not denies his association with the farm and says and that he performed not only all his regular work there but some additional chores.

"The first thing I desire to emphasize," Elisha Jordan told Lawyers Sundlun and Needham, "is that I have no interest in the Cosmo case except the interest of all citizens to see that justice is done. I want to do all that I can to find the real culprit and see that he is punished."

Farnham Jordan, told the Amaral lawyers he will take the witness stand and testify that on the day in question it was Amaral who came to him in the dairy shed with news that dinner was ready.

ALL HAD DINNER

No one appeared to have taken particular account of the time, but all thought dinner was ready that day soon after the factory whistles roundabout had sounded the noon hour.

That would be about 12:10 o'clock or twenty-five minutes before little Clementine Cosmo was picked up by the unidentified motorist on South Broadway, in East Providence, some six or seven miles away.

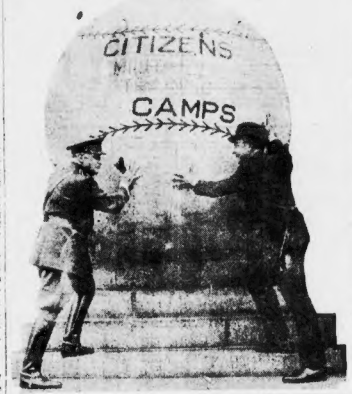
STARTING BIG SPHERE ON THIRD LAP



GEN. BREWSTER AND LIEUT. GOV. FULLER

Biggest baseball in the world is launched on the third section of its "round-the-country" journey from the State House steps. It is a publicity stunt for the Citizens' Military Training Camp and was first set rolling by Mayor Dever and General Moseley in Chicago.

Lieutenant Governor Fuller and General A. W. Brewster, commanding the First Corps Area, got together on the State House steps at 11 a. m. today and started the biggest baseball in the world on the third lap of its "Round The Country Trip."

The baseball, a gigantic leather covered sphere painted like a baseball, had been rolled from Chicago to New York to Boston as a publicity stunt for the Citizens' Military Training Camps. It has covered 2,300 miles since first started rolling in Mayor William Dever and General Moseley in Chicago, early in March.

Rolled by members of the Citizens' Training camps from Chicago to Albany, floated down the Hudson to New York, and pushed from New York to Boston, the ball started on a return trip to New York when the Governor assisted in the military men, gave it the first roll. From there, it will be rolled to Washington, and thence to San Francisco.

Plans were made for a send-off at the Parkman bandstand by Maxie Brown, the "Little Colonel," former star in "Moonlight," was in command of the jumbo globe. He spoke on the value of Citizens' Military Camps.

thing to us proud, republican sovereigns is that Englishmen discuss a portrait of their King more earnestly than they ever discuss the King himself.

VIEWED FROM this distance, King George seems a pretty good sort of King. The things that he does NOT do are at least as important as those he does. He sets a good example and doesn't interfere with the British government, which is really democratic, closer to the people and more within the people's control than our own government, for instance.

KING GEORGE is guided to a large extent—as all men ought to be—by his wife, a sensible woman, who wears dresses of the old kind, high shoes that button up, and that don't look like a gilded harness for a Shetland pony.

It isn't necessary to read the fable of King Stork and King Log to realize that the British are fortunate in the character of their King.

HENRY FORD refuses to discuss his Muscle Shoals proposition in Washington. You don't blame him. He wrote on his proposition, which would save given more than two hundred million dollars to the government. The Senate has had the written offer for two years and ought to know what is in it by this time.

MOST OF the opposition to Henry Ford is the opposition of grafters that would like to get government property without giving anything real in exchange for it. But some of the opposition is sincere. It includes the opposition of Senator Norris, an earnest, honest and able man. Senator Norris's opposition is courageous, inasmuch as the farmers will hold him responsible for the final result.

A NERVOUS young woman, called the "bobbed-hair bandit," is sent to jail for from ten to twenty years. She warns young girls to be good, saying: "My heart is breaking in me."

This young lady made experiments in mob psychology. With a small pistol, usually not loaded, not even "cocked," she would "stick up" a store and all the people in it, rob them at her leisure and depart.

SHE WILL spend at least ten years in one prison. Her young husband will spend from ten to twenty years in another prison.

Our civilization doesn't know what else to do with criminals, and perhaps there isn't anything else to do but lock them up and make them live abnormally in wife surroundings.

THEY COME out feeling they have a just grudge against society, and perhaps Supreme Justice would agree with them.

Is there nothing better to be done with criminals, young and old, than locking them in a stone prison for a certain number of years? Does that, in the long run, do more good or harm? Does it reform or frighten the criminal? Does it keep others from committing crime? Or does it train professional criminals, who, in their turn, train other criminals?

NEWS FROM Washington says President Coolidge will shield the nation from "blocs" in Congress by the firm use of the veto. This refers probably, and unfortunately, only to such blocs as venture to strike in favor of the farmer, labor, etc.

There is only one important "bloc" in Congress and that is the corporation bloc.

President Coolidge will find plenty of opportunities to use his veto on that corporation bloc.

It is never asleep, never idle, and it gets what it wants, whether it be higher freight rates, oil lands set aside for the navy, or some deal with Europe that will feather the nest of international bankers.

WEALTHY WIDOW TO BE BRIDE OF TOUPIN

Lieutenant Governor Brands Breach of Promise Suit as Fake

Miss Sorel is said to be in New York making the final selections for her trousseau.

While Miss Olivier is tester and weigher of yarns for J. P. Coats Company at Central Falls, attempted to withdraw further and further from the limelight of publicity, leaders of the Rhode Island Democracy renewed and repeated their charge that the "withdrawal-breach of promise suit was part of a political plot."

The Democrats point out, for one thing, that Patrick G. Dillon, the attorney who says he did his best but failed to pull back the anti-Toupin writ after it had reached the hands of a Republican deputy sheriff, was found out of the Democratic party eleven years ago on the floor of the General Assembly.

There has been a bitter fight against the Democrats for the creation of a Police Commission upon the town of Cumberland.

DILLON A DEMOCRAT

Dillon was a Democratic assemblyman from that town. At a mass meeting in his home town he had raised his right hand to heaven, the Republicans say, and declared that he would cut it off before he would vote for the Police Commission.

If the records of the Assembly it is said to find the house divided, 40-40, on the Cumberland Commission bill. Then the measure had failed to pass on the vote.

Dillon had the question recharged. Then he voted "Yea" in favor of a Commission.

BURNED IN EFFIGY.

The Democratic leader promptly read him out of the party.

He was burned in effigy on Lonsdale Bridge.

Within twenty-four hours he was no longer connected with the law office of Fitzgerald & Higgins.

Another point made by Democratic leaders, as they review what they call the "Anti-Toupin Plot," is that Sheriff John Andrews of Providence is to say he was unable to find Deputy Dorsey when Dillon told them his writ was "off," might have sent a messenger West of Denver to the Senate Chamber to tell the deputy-sheriff that the writ was not to be served.

This Sheriff Andrews failed to do.

Although a provision of the State Constitution stands in the way of the arrest of a lawmaker the Democratic leaders believe the plan was to get the Lieutenant-Governor out of the Senate Chamber for at least a few minutes.

FILIBUSTER PLOT

In such an emergency, it is said Col. Arthur A. Sherman of Portsmouth, Republican, would have taken the gavel, the filibuster for "phonus ejectus" would have come to an end in its 19th week, the Constitutional Convention bill would have gone into the discard for another two years, and the Republicans would have rushed through one or two measures of vast importance to certain corporations.

The alleged breach of promise suit the Democrats insist, was part of a plan to "destroy" Felix Toupin, generally looked upon as one of the ablest young men who have arisen in the Democratic ranks in many years.

The Democrats have decided not to discuss the breach of promise affair any further, at least for the present. He will in consideration the possibility of pushing criminal proceedings to a successful termination. If there appears to be at least an even chance, fireworks may be expected, he says.

FORD RUNS 57 MILES ON GALLON OF GASOLINE

With J. A. Stransky's Automatic Device.

A new automatic fuel regulating device has been invented by John A. Stransky, 260 Fourth St., Pukwana, South Dakota, with which automobiles have made from 40 to 57 miles on a gallon of gasoline. It removes all carbon and prevents spark plugs from fouling or overheating. It can be installed by anyone in five minutes. Mr. Stransky wants agents and is willing to send a sample at his own risk. KLAN CROSS FLAMES AS FATHER O'REILLY'S JUBILEE ENDS

LAWRENCE AROUSED BY INSULT

Police Have Clew to Those Who Placed Fiery Emblem on Tower Hill

Lawrence, May 8.—Police today were in possession of several clews they hoped would result in identifying those who raised a flaming cross on Tower Hill, at the close of the four-day public testimonial to Rev. James T. O'Reilly, seventy-eight-year-old pastor of St. Mary's Church.

A Haverhill newspaper bearing a name and address is one of the clews.

Mechanical ingenuity on the part of the Ku Klux Klan was revealed in the construction of the cross, which was of portable design. The Klan "harpenter" fastened the cross with hinges, permitting it to be folded compactly and stowed in an automobile.

CITY AROUSED.

The city has probably never before been so incensed as over the cross incident, which is interpreted as an affront to Father O'Reilly.

Citizens of every creed and nationality had participated in the four-day celebration in his honor. The Ku Klux Klan was probably the only organization in the city not represented.

The flaming cross, first to make its appearance in Lawrence, was erected beside the city reservoir on Tower Hill, highest point in the city.

It was discovered by women residents of that exclusive residential section just as 500 citizens, of all creeds and nationalities, were coming from the Father O'Reilly banquet in Winter Garden, which brought the four-day celebration to a close.

Among the speakers there were Associate Justice Charles A. McSorley of the Supreme Court, Superintendent of Schools Jeremiah E. Burke of Boston, Judge Louis A. Cox, brother of the Governor, and President Robert J. Gillan, M. D., of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce.

The flaming cross on Tower Hill was 12 feet high, with a crossarm between six and seven feet in length.

It was built of 2x4 material, the whole wrapped in burlap and then soaked in gasoline.

The base of the cross was fastened by bolts to the bottom of the wooden railing which encircles the municipal reservoir.

When the firemen of Engine 8 reached the scene, from their house on Amos street nearby, the reservoir fence was on fire.

First news of the presence of the K. K. K. emblem was telephoned to Police Captain Joseph Mullaney by an unidentified person.

This message was followed almost immediately by another, the second coming from Mrs. Walter Rochefort, wife of the Mayor.

Motorcycle Officers William Ludwig and Daniel Kiley were dispatched to Tower Hill immediately. Soon afterwards Captain Mullaney sent Patrolmen John Fleming, Phillip Larco, Daniel Kimball, Patrick Gilrein and Francis Devlin.

The police learned that shortly after the discovery of the flaming cross, residents on Tower Hill saw an open automobile with three men in it tearing through Amos street at high speed.

These are believed to be the men who brought the cross to the reservoir.

Not since one of the Reds who tried to take charge of the textile strike of several years ago declared that the motto of the proletariat should be "No God, No Flag, No Country," has public sentiment in this city been so inflamed.

On that occasion, it was Father O'Reilly who organized a great loyalty parade in which scores of marchers carried banners bearing the inscription, "One God, One Flag, One Country."

Only a few hours before the K. K. K. emissaries touched the match to their fiery emblem, 20,000 men, women and children paraded the streets of Lawrence in Father O'Reilly's honor.

HUGHES TO SPEAK AT BROWN DINNER

Providence, May 8.—Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes has accepted an invitation to speak for the alumni of Brown University at the dinner to be given by the university corporation, the faculty and the associated alumni to President W. H. P. Faunce of Brown in this city Friday, May 16.

The dinner is in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the election of Dr. Faunce as president of Brown. Mr. Hughes was graduated from Brown one year later than Dr. Faunce. Both belonged to the same fraternity. Rev. Dr. John M. Englis of Newton Theological Institution will speak.

BROKE TRADITION OF CIRCUS FOR LOVE

BIRD MILLMAN

Circus tradition that the women of the 'big top' must marry only circus men is to be shattered by the slack wire walker. Her romance with Joseph F. O'Day, Boston merchant, began at a New Year's party in the Hotel Brunswick.

Bird Millman, dainty exponent of slack wire walking, found romance, not under the "Big Top" of the world's biggest circus, but within close range of the saxophones at the Egyptian room of the Brunswick hotel.

It was through the wise pairings of a hostess that Bird found herself seated beside Joseph F. O'Day, Boston business man, at a little party for eight.

Mr. O'Day is treasurer of the D. J. Larkin Company, Broad street dry-stuffs concern. Four days later he found the memory of the charming little circus girl still lingering and, man-like, he arranged to meet her again.

That was a year ago last New Year's. Now they are about to be married.

Tradition has it that circus women must not marry "outside the show." Miss Millman says, however, that love is bigger than even "The World's Greatest."

WOMAN AGENT TELLS OF SPINE RUBBING

Miss Rae Clark, an investigator for the State, described in Middlesex Superior Criminal Court today how M. R. Dulysle, a chiropractor of No. 198 Main street, Marlboro, massaged her spine for some supposed ailments.

Dulysle is being tried on the charges of holding himself to be a practitioner of medicine and of practicing medicine without a license.

"I went into his office and told him I had been sent by a friend for treatment," Miss Clark testified.

"He told me to go into a side room, which I did. He then ordered me to strip to the waist, and after I had done so he massaged my spine."

The investigator testified that Dulysle told her that she could be cured by taking a complete course of fifteen treatments. After paying $5 for the initial treatment, the investigator left, she said, and never returned.

MARSTON'S ESTATE GOES TO HIS FAMILY

The will of Howard Marston, head of the H. Marston Co., which conducts several restaurants in Boston, filed today, leaves the bulk of the estate to his widow, Alice H. Marston, her son, Shirley Marston and his wife, and his two grand children, Russell K. and Dana M. Marston. Provision also is made for possible future descendants.

He also left to the town of Barnstable a tract of land in the village of Centreville for a public park to be known as Memorial Park. The income of $1,000 is to be used for the care of the park. The Centreville Public Library is given $1,000 and $500 to the town of Barnstable, the income to be used in paying

GINSBERG HELD IN $1,000 IN CAMBRIDGE

Former Clerk of Corcoran Is Charged With Felony in the Mozette Case

Charles Ginsberg, formerly a clerk in the office of William J. Corcoran in Cambridge, was arraigned in Middlesex Superior Court today on indictments returned by a recent grand jury.

With Corcoran, Attorney Joseph P. Walsh and John H. Doyle, Ginsberg is charged with compounding a felony and being an accessory after the fact to the larceny of $11,155 from Mrs. Justine Gordon by "Sir" Thomas Mozette.

Ginsberg is also indicted on two counts, charging the larceny of $147 from Mrs. Elizabeth Peterson and the larceny of $147 from Carl and Elizabeth Peterson.

He appeared before Judge Fosdick and his bail was fixed at $1,000, which he furnished.

Counsel for Ginsberg was given ten days in which to file special pleas.

Fire Drives Out Nine

Many persons were driven to the street when a fire caused by carelessness of matches swept the four-story brick building at No. 137 Brighton street, West End, and caused damage estimated at $1,200.

Young Folk Embrace Prohibition Best, Says Bishop

The younger folks of the present generation in many cases are more active in enforcing prohibition than their elders, according to Bishop Coadjutor Slattery of the Episcopal church.

Bishop Slattery illustrated this with a true story, in addressing a dinner of members of the Episcopalian Club at the Hotel Somerset.

"A mother dreamed that her son in a certain college was drinking spirituous liquors of bad quality," said the Bishop.

"The mother procured a flask of good brandy and took it to her son at the college, believing he should at least drink liquor of good quality. To her surprise, her son informed her that neither he nor any member of his set drank any intoxicating beverages."

HARVARD EXPLORERS FIND CHINESE TEMPLE

The Harvard University expedition to the Orient, which set out last June to find new traces of art in Western China, returned to Cambridge reporting the discovery of an ancient stucco Buddhist temple in an isolated cave in a hitherto unexplored part of Western China.

According to Langdon Warner of the class of 1903, who headed the expedition, the temple had never before been seen by a white explorer, as it was situated far inland.

SLEUTH SAYS HE BOUGHT RUM OF YOUNG WOMAN

Mrs. Irene Fenwick of Allston Accused by Brighton Detective

Mrs. Irene Fenwick, twenty-three and comely, was in doubt when a strange man appeared at her apartment at No. 1334 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, and asked for a couple quarts of liquor.

"It's all right, Miss Parker sent me around," said the stranger, who then explained that Miss Parker knew her husband.

"I'll take a chance but I tell you I feel funny about this," repeated the young woman.

According to the stranger a bottle of gin was produced and $3 was paid the young woman.

"You had a good hunch if you only had played it," remarked the stranger as he pulled back his coat and displayed a badge. He, as John Willard, vice-sleuth extraordinary, of the Brighton police station. In court, before Judge Connolly, today, the woman pleaded not guilty to keeping and selling liquor and the case was continued.

Sleuth Willard had a busy day. He appeared against Frank Copeland of No. 1160 Commonwealth avenue, whom he accused of betting on baseball at Braves Field. Copeland was fined $5.

Willard also testified that he followed a man released from police of the missing fliers has been found.

Man Not a 'Thing,' So Cannot Be Searched for Rum, Says Judge

Philadelphia, May 8.—A man is not a "thing" in the meaning of the law, hence search of a man's person for liquor is illegal, Judge Brown of the Municipal Court ruled in instructing a jury to acquit a saloonkeeper arrested for having a flask of liquor in his hip pocket.

Police testified they had gone to Martin Milbech's saloon with a search and seizure warrant, found no liquor there, but discovered a half pint flask of whiskey in Miller's hip pocket. Joseph L. Moss, counsel for Miller, maintained a search warrant, under the law, did not authorize search of the person, and the court upheld him.

ROUND-WORLD FLIERS RESUME TRIP TODAY

Washington, May 8.—A radio message from Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commanding the army planes in the around-the-world flight, received today at Army Air Service headquarters, said the fliers were ready to resume their journey. Their next jump will carry them 830 miles across the Pacific from Atka, Alaska, to Attu Island.

Search is still being made for Major Martin and his mechanic, lost on the Bering coast, but no trace of the missing fliers has been found.

DRUG, ROB GIRL ON STEAMSHIP FROM FLORIDA

Found Unconscious in Stateroom After 'Farewell Party' With Strangers

Baltimore, May 8.—Drugged and robbed by strangers she met on a steamship enroute to Baltimore from Miami, Fla., Loretta Smith, twenty-seven, of Jersey City, N. J., is in a critical condition at University Hospital.

Police are searching for two men and a woman who disappeared when the steamer reached her wharf.

Recovering consciousness, she said she had spent the Winter at Miami. On the voyage she met two men and a woman, and the night before the ship reached port, the woman suggested a farewell party. Miss Smith said the last thing she remembered was drinking a glass of ginger ale.

Her baggage had been looted and her purse and all her money except some silver stolen.

Bobbed Hair Parts Widowed Sisters As One Balks

Chicago, May 8—The harmony in the apartment of Mrs. Louis Wisniniski and Mrs. Myra Pettigan turned to discord over the "bob" question.

They are widowed sisters, the first named fifty-three and Mrs. Pettigan fifty-seven. The frisky Mrs. Wisniniski came home recently with her hair bobbed. Mrs. Pettigan said she almost swooned. Thereupon a series of quarrels ensued that ended in the police court. It seems the bobbed sister attempted by force to bob her older sister but without success.

"I know she wants a man," said Mrs. Pettigan to Judge McConnell, "but bobbed hair won't catch him."

The Judge put them both under $500 peace bond.

SOUGHT WAY TO "SMEAR" OIL PROSECUTOR

Witness Says Coan, G. O. P. Investigator, Admitted Why He Went to Montana

Washington, May 8—The activities of Blair Coan, Republican National Committee investigator, who went to Montana to inquire into the records of Senator Walsh of the Oil Committee and Senator Wheeler of the Daugherty Committee, were further described today in the Senate Daugherty investigation.

A. A. Grorud, a Helena attorney, testified he had talked with Coan in Montana in April.

"Coan came to me and said he wanted something to smear Senator Walsh," Grorud said. "He asked me for affidavits. He said they had Wheeler where they wanted him, and now they would get something on Walsh.

"I told Coan that I knew something about the Campbell case on which Senator Wheeler's indictment was based and that there was nothing they could assail Wheeler about in that.

22 MEN IN MONTANA.

"Coan said that was right, but they would have the indictment in hold over Wheeler, anyhow. Slattery, the United States District Attorney, had not wished to bring the case before Grand Jury, even, Coan went on, but the Department of Justice had a charge against Slattery, because he had been mixed up in some liquor prosecutions, and that made Slattery go through anyway."

Blair Coan told me the Department of Justice had twenty-two men in Montana," Grorud said.

The committee then referred to its inquiry into the affairs of Howard Mannington. M. P. Kauffmuller, former associate of Mannington in Washington, produced a letter sent him February 26, 1922, by the latter from Columbus, refusing to give back any part of the money paid by Kauffmuller to Mannington as fees and "legal services."

The witness said Fred A. Kasley, also associated with Mannington, had told him Will A. Orr of New York also "was trying to get back money from Mannington and that Orr threatened to shoot up Jess Smith and Mannington if he did not pay it back."

HAD INFLUENCE.

"Wasn't this money paid by your clients because they knew Mannington was close to the Attorney General?" asked Chairman Brookhart.

"Well, he believed he had influence with the Attorney General."

"It turned out, frequently, that with all the influence of Mr. Mannington, yourself and Fred A. Kasley," Brookhart asked, "you were unable to get liquor permits?"

"Yes, sir."

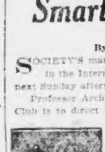
Music Festival Next Sunday Has Large Smart Set Following, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

SOCIETY'S many patrons of music are interested in the International Musical Festival to be held next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Symphony Hall.

Professor Archibald Davison of the Harvard Glee Club is to direct the festival, which promises to be one of the most colorful affairs of its kind ever to be staged in Boston.



Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, 2nd
(Photo by Bachrach)

Large choruses of voices from the Swedish, Italian, Polish, Hebrew, Russian, German, Danish, Dutch, Bohemian, Norwegian, Lettish and Armenian nationalities will take part. A corps of girls picturesquely garbed in native costumes will act as ushers.

Each group is to sing a folk song or great national air of its country, and all will sing an American selection by Frederick S. Converse. Mr. Benjamin Loring Young will preside at the festival, at which Mr. Converse, Mr. Davison and Mr. Thomas Surette will be the judges, the prizes to be awarded by Mayor Curley.

Of the prominent folk working for the success of this unique affair are Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, 2nd, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Miss Mary C. Wheelwright, Mrs. Harold Murdock and Mrs. Eva Whiting White. The Community Service of Boston, Inc., and the Women's Municipal League are assisting in the staging of the festival.

COMING as a pleasant diversion in an unusually quiet week are the performances of the Harvard Dramatic Club.

Tonight this entertaining band of Cambridge thespians offers once more at Brattle Hall "The Makropoulos Secret," moving later to the Fine Arts Theatre.

Mrs. Edwin S. Webster

Presentations of the Harvard Dramatic Club have always a large and fashionable following. Among the many matrons sponsoring this production is Mrs. Edwin S. Webster, whose son received his sheepskin from the university across the Charles last June.

Another enthusiastic sponsor is Mrs. Walter C. Baylies of Commonwealth avenue, whose two sons, Walter and George—both seniors—are among the Crimson's most notable thespians.

BOSTON has its interest in the marriage of Miss Barbara Whitney, daughter of the Harry Payne Whitneys, and Barklie McKee Henry, which will probably take place the latter part of next month, shortly after the prospective bridegroom's graduation from Harvard. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Barklie Henry of Philadelphia had a place on the North Shore last Summer.

Society Notes

MRS. ANDREW ROBESON is visiting in Providence as the guest of Mrs. I. Harris Metcalf.

Mrs. Carl A. deGersdorff is at the Red Lion Inn in Stockbridge to inspect her villa there.

The Harvard University Orchestra will give two concerts in New York at Aeolian Hall on May 16 and 17. Mrs. Vincent Astor will be one of the patronesses.

Mrs. John Nicholas Brown of Newport has been spending a few days in New York.

Miss Ruth Draper was the guest of honor at a luncheon given in Rapallo the other day at the Hôtel Verdi. Captain Francesco Gharibaldi was the host.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Felton, Jr., are to spend the Summer months at Manchester-by-the-Sea.

DOUG UNKNOWN TO DANISH OFFICIAL

Copenhagen, May 8.—When Douglas Fairbanks' press agent informed a Danish newspaper that Fairbanks and Mary Pickford were ready to visit Denmark if the newspaper could arrange an audience for Doug and Mary with the King, the editor of the paper rang up the king's chamberlain and asked whether this would be possible.

Mary Pickford

"Who are Fairbanks and Pickford?" asked the chamberlain.

Learning their vocations and nationality, the chamberlain replied that such citizens must apply for an audience through the American minister.

FRENCH WIRELESS OPERATORS STRIKE

STOLEN HORSE HELPS GET SAFE AND $35,000

Saginaw, Mich., May 8.—Robbers early today used a stolen horse to drag a four-ton safe from the State Savings Bank at Harrison.

The safe is said to have contained between $6,000 and $7,000 in cash and about $24,000 in Liberty bonds.

BOTH PARTIES AGREE ON NEW BEER BILL

Washington, May 8.—Sixty-odd Democrats and Republicans of the House have agreed upon a 2.75 per cent. beer and light wine amendment to the Volstead Act and will make a hard drive for action this session.

This proposed measure takes the place of fifty-nine bills introduced by that many members.

Organizing into "the Committee on Modification of the Volstead Act," the group has introduced this bill, amending Title II, Section 1 of the act by inserting the following after the words "beverage purposes":

"Provided, that from and after the passage of this act any beverage obtained by the alcoholic fermentation of an infusion or decoction of barley malt, cereals and hops in drinkable water or by the mutual fermentation of apple or other fruit, vegetable or berb juices containing not more than 2.75 per centum alcohol may be manufactured, sold or transported for sale in original packages for consumption in homes and places other than the place of sale."

This would give the beer a kick without doing violence to the Eighteenth Amendment, it is contended.

The beer hearing before the Judiciary Committee was resumed today with representatives of the Anti-Saloon League and other dry forces on the stand. When they are through opponents of the Volstead Act will have another inning.

WAR VETERAN IS BEATEN, ROBBED

Voiceless Ex-Soldier Stripped of Clothing by Assailants Near Sterling Hospital

Fitchburg, May 8.—Leo Parker, a World War veteran whose power of speech was destroyed by a German bullet, was attacked by two thugs, badly beaten and stripped of all his clothing near the Sterling Hospital for Disabled Veterans, today.

Parker, who since his discharge from the Sterling Hospital has been living with a sister in Dracut, was returning from a visit to the hospital when attacked.

The men hid behind a clump of bushes along the roadside and leaped on him as he passed. On account of his injured throat, Parker was unable to make any outcry and the thugs beat him into semi-consciousness.

Parker made his way to a farmhouse, where he aroused the family and obtained some old clothing. He then went to Fitchburg, where he notified the police of the holdup.

Parker describes his assailants as young men, each about 20, and of about the same height, five feet, seven inches. One of the things wore overalls and a blue coat, while the other wore a brown suit and light cap.

METHODISTS TO LIFT BAN ON AMUSEMENTS

Actors' Association Protests Rule Preventing the Stage Folk From Joining Church

Springfield, May 8 (I.N.S.).—Lifting of the old ban of the Methodist Episcopal Church against attending dances, theatres, circuses and horse races will be one of the immediate results of the unification of the church with the Methodist Church, South, it was stated today at the general conference in session here.

The union was voted at yesterday's session. Amusements are permitted by the rules of the Southern church, but were denied by the Methodist Episcopal branch.

FOR HOLY WEEK.

A large group of liberal delegates at the conference is back of the movement to have the amusement ban lifted at once rather than wait until the merger is effective and such action becomes imperative. The Southern churches will not permit the amusement ban, and the New England, Southern, New York, New York East, Newark, Rock river, Ill., and Central Pennsylvania conferences have already declared for a lifting of the ban.

A rule of the church prevents actors and actresses from joining the Methodist Church. The Actors' Equity Association has lodged a formal protest with the conference against this rule.

Plans for a more general observance of the week preceding Easter as "Holy Week" were considered today in committee. Recommendations were made that the Church act to have leaders in social affairs and school authorities conduct programs that will not conflict with religious observances of the week.

If the plan is adopted, efforts will be made to have other Protestant Churches join in the observance.

MURLIN MAY BE BISHOP.

Rev. Dr. L. H. Murlin, president of Boston University; Rev. Dr. Raymond J. Wade of Chicago, general secretary of the Conference, and Dr. David G. Downey of New York are mentioned as probable new Bishops.

Bishop A. W. Leonard of San Francisco, chairman of the Commission of Correlation, submitted his report today on the needs of young people's organizations.

DOOMED SLAYER SCORNED BY COMRADES

Tried Suicide After Confessing Murder to Save His Friends; 6 Die Tomorrow

Amite La., May 8 (I.N.S.)—The six Negroes doomed to die tomorrow for slaying Dallas Calmes at Independence three years ago sat in death cells of the county prison today, resigned to their fate.

Some time after high noon tomorrow the sextet will be hanged, two at a time.

They spent the last few hours of their lives playing solitaire; another sat staring at nothing, while the remaining three occasionally would exchange in conversation. When they spoke it was not of their crime, to their three-year fight for life, nor did they refer to their impending deaths.

"Pretty cool for this time of the year," one of them remarked. Another replied, dully, in the affirmative.

Roy Lemm, one of the men who attempted to save the lives of his comrades by confessing to the murder and by taking all the blame upon himself, sat, nursing his stab wounds inflicted in an attempt at suicide.

As critical by his comrades, he had little to say. They branded him as a "traitor" even who was afraid to die as a man.

4-MASTER ASHORE; CREW IS RESCUED

Norfolk, Va., May 8.—The four-masted schooner R. H. Gwin of New York went ashore during a fog today fourteen miles north of Bodies Island, North Carolina, Coast Guard men at Kill Devil Hill rescued the crew.

SEEK DAMAGES

BERNESE DRISKO AND MOTHER

Henry Henshaw, former principal of Woburn school, pleaded nolo in the Superior Court when arraigned for assaulting little Bernice Drisko with an iron pipe on Hallowe'en, was released on payment of costs. The parents of the girl now have brought suit against Henshaw for $10,000.

EX-PRINCIPAL WHO HIT GIRL IS SUED

Harry A. Henshaw, former teacher in the Woburn public schools, is sued for $10,000 by the parents of 10-year-old Bernese Drisko of Woburn, who was beaten by him on Hallowe'en, while she was celebrating with other youngsters.

Henshaw pleaded nolo when he appeared in Middlesex Superior Court several weeks ago on the charge of beating the young girl. He was allowed to go when he paid costs of court, which aggregated $50. At that time the parents of the child were in the courtroom anxious to proceed against Henshaw.

For 32 years Henshaw was principal of the Goodyear School of Woburn.

It is charged that little Bernese was passing the Henshaw home with other children. Several of the girls went to the Henshaw lawn and rolled down an embankment. Henshaw gave chase, and overtaking Bernese, hit her with an iron pipe.

Subsequently the school teacher, he is 60 years old, was arrested and arraigned in Woburn District Court. The child had been picked up and carried home, bleeding profusely from a wound in her head.

U. S. NAVY PLAN OF WILBUR ATTACKED

London Newspaper Doesn't Like Idea of Making U. S. Navy Most Powerful

London, May 8.—American Secretary of the Navy Wilbur's statement that he wants to make the United States Navy the most powerful, "has rather sinister significance," commented the Daily News today.

Secretary Wilbur's proposed program of increasing the American navy along unrestricted lines is attracting widespread attention in the English press.

"Secretary Wilbur," said the Daily Sun, "wants to outstrip all competitors, then call a conference to prevent the competitors from catching up. Unless Mr. Wilbur is grievously misrepresented, he is a moralist who would better serve the cause of peace by holding his peace and devoting all his energies to his chosen task of restoring the American navy to its dominating situation."

George Gould Estate First Accounting Shows $15,417,288

Toms River, N. J., May 8.—The first accounting of the estate of the late George J. Gould by the executors, S. N. Rice and Kingdon Gould, has been filed in the surrogate's office and allowed by Judge Newman, although several objections were made by members of the Gould family and others.

The estate in the hands of the executors is now $15,417,288.

RICH WIDOW TO PAY $55,000 HEART BALM

Petting Parties a Feature of Evidence in Philadelphia Alienation Suit

Philadelphia, May 8.—Mrs. Maude J. Sherritt of Overbrook received a $55,000 verdict for alienation of affections against Mrs. Edith Fowler, wealthy widow, from a jury in Common Pleas Court before Judge Mc-Devitt.

Mrs. Sherritt sued Mrs. Fowler for stealing the love of her husband, Ira Sherritt, manager of a machine company of this city. Testimony of "petting parties" in Mrs. Fowler's apartment was given during the trial.

The jurors, all men, deliberated from 12 to 4 o'clock.

The jury foreman in announcing the verdict, said that $25,000 was for punishment to Mrs. Fowler, and $30,000 was to compensate Mrs. Sherritt for the loss of her husband's love and his allowance to her.

Man Haled to Court Opposed Operation on His Son

Holyoke, May 8.—His 10-year-old son's arm broken and dislocated, Frank Gorris of Jones street refused to allow physicians, who subjected to see the fracture and deformity, to operate on the boy until Gorris was haled before Judge Hildreth in District Court.

After an interpreter had talked to him and with a complaint of neglect pending against the child the father finally signed a permit to allow the operation.

HUNT SHOOTER OF SAILOR IN REVERE

Mysterious Assailant, Chased Through Crowd, Escapes on Boston Train

A mysterious assailant who shot down F. E. Hickey, a sailor attached to the Chelsea Naval Hospital, while crowds passed in Ocean avenue, Revere, was hunted by the Revere police today.

As Hickey fell to the sidewalk with fatal wounds in his right arm, the man who fired the shots fled.

Attention to Hickey paralyzed bystanders in Ocean avenue in the Crescent Beach section of the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railway.

A flatted-footed train was just pulling out of the railroad station. The gunman leaped aboard and escaped.

DESCENDANT OF MAYFLOWER DIES AT 90

Plymouth Woman Traced Descent Back to Several Pilgrim Families

Plymouth, May 8.—Mrs. Lucia A. (or Bradford Knapp, descendant of several Mayflower families, and widow of Rev. Frederick N. Knapp, died today at her home, No. 225 Court street, after a short illness.

She observed her ninetieth birthday in February. Her family traced back through many marriages to half a dozen original passengers on the Mayflower and she was active in organizations of Mayflower descendants.

Mrs. Knapp was the daughter of the Rev. Claudius Bradford of Boston and Maria Alden of Duxbury. During the Civil War she worked with her husband in Washington with the Sanitary Commission, whose work now is performed by the Red Cross.

Three daughters and a son survive.

SEARLES' HEIR TO FIGHT SUIT OF BELLBOY

Attorney for the Young Greek Says Client Will Sue for Entire $22,000,000

New York, May 8.—Arthur T. Walker, who inherited most of the $22,000,000 estate of the late Edward F. Searles, filed notice today of appearance in the suit begun against him by Angelo Milton Ellison, Searles' young protege.

Ellison so far has filed only a statement in which the nature of the action is not set forth, but according to his attorney the former elevator boy intends to sue for the entire testamentary estate which Walker, Searles' secretary, inherited.

Ellison, who during the last five or six years of Edward F. Searles' life was taken from place to place by the latter and lived with him in suites in the Biltmore, Belmont and Murray Hill hotels and on the Searles place in Methuen, was left only $10,000 in the will, although for years he had been treated virtually as Searles' adopted son.

He intimated its allegations would be sensational.

One contention, Dr. Aaron admitted, will be that Edward F. Searles regarded Ellison as a son and fully intended not only to give him his name, but to make the provisions for him in his will which were actually made for Walker. It will be charged, the attorney indicated, that Searles was prevented by illegal methods from carrying out his intentions.

The means by which it is charged Searles was diverted from his alleged intentions are expected to be included in the complaint.

Ellison, according to his attorney, is a quiet, mannered, handsome young man of about twenty-three, who is now trying to make a living in advertising. He is living in New York city, his attorney said, but he declined to reveal the address.

If the present action goes to a jury for determination it will be the first time since the death of Searles that the various confusing issues arising out of the disposition of his estate will be passed upon legally.

Demands All

ANGELO MILTON ELLISON.

Former bellboy, who lived with Edward F. Searles, is suing to obtain his entire $22,000,000 estate left by the aged Methuen recluse.

MENACE OF NEW WAR LOOMS IN RUHR

Communists Bring About Strikes and Lockouts Affecting 300,000 Workmen

Berlin, May 8.—The menace of a Red war in the Ruhr loomed higher today when news was received that the Communists have brought about strikes and lockouts affecting 300,000 men, mostly coal miners.

Russian agents are alleged to have persuaded the German Reds to precipitate labor troubles and to make demonstrations in celebration of their sensational success at the polls last Sunday when they increased their Reichstag seats to more than 90.

Serious disorders are feared. So far the French and Belgian troops have not interfered.

The whole situation has been complicated by the rupture between the German and Soviet governments over the police raid upon Russian trade headquarters and the departure of Russian Ambassador Krestin-sky for Moscow.

Attaches of the Russian embassy indicated that the situation was by no means acute. They said Krestinsky would not return until Germany apologized for the raid at trade headquarters last Saturday.

The German and Russian governments today created an international committee to discuss the differences arising over the raid. Later the matter will be submitted to a court of arbitration for final decision.

A. A. FOWLE 50 YEARS ON GLOBE

Fifty years' service with the Boston Globe by Arthur A. Fowle, genial managing editor, was commemorated by the Globe staff at a testimonial dinner in Young's Hotel. Mr. Fowle was given $500 in gold and a silver cup.

There were mustered at the dinner most of the 241 employes who have worked on the Globe for twenty-five years or more. In addition the younger members of the staff and nearly all Globe correspondents from various cities and towns were present.

Governor Cox, former reporter on the Globe, who declared he invited himself to the testimonial dinner, made an address.

New York—Four hundred structural iron workers return to work today, their demands for a daily wage of $12 having been met by the Thompson Starrett Company.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Teach Your Children To Use Cuticura

Whether it is an annoying rash, irritation, cut or wound Cuticura will soothe and assist in healing. First bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry and anoint with Cuticura Ointment. Cuticura Talcum also is excellent for little ones.

Is Springtime Your Backache Time?

DOES spring find you all worn out—miserable with daily backache—tortured with sharp pains? Are you dull, tired and dispirited? Nerves "all unstrung?" Do you wonder why springtime is such a happy time for others, yet finds you so tired, weak and all played-out?

There must be a cause! Likely your kidneys are not properly filtering the poisons from the blood. Nerves and blood are apt to be upset by these toxins. Then comes lameness, soreness and stiffness; constant backache, rheumatic twinges, headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities.

Don't risk serious kidney trouble! Begin using Doan's Pills today. Doan's are especially for weak kidneys. They have helped thousands. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Boston Folks:

HENRY P. CURRAN, 371 Meridian St., East Boston, says: "A cold settled in my kidneys and they ached so often my rest was broken at night as I had to get up to pass the secretions. My back was lame and there was a soreness in the small part. I was run down and felt tired all the time. Two boxes of Doan's Pills from the Crocker Drug Co. gave me a lasting cure."

MRS. GEORGIA WHIDDON, 55 Warton Ave., says: "I had a terrible backache and had to brace my hands on my back when I got out of bed. My kidneys acted too freely and pains in my head nearly drove me crazy. A couple boxes of Doan's Pills from Liggett's drug store cured me. Statement given Oct. 11, 1920. On October 4, 1923, Mrs. Whiddon added: "The cure Doan's Pills effected has been a lasting one."

EVELYN QUITS FIGHT AGAINST HARRY THAW

Admits Defeat, Which She Lays to Power of Ex-Husband's Riches

Atlantic City, N. J., May 8.—"The Thaw millions are too much for a working girl to combat."

Such was the declaration here of

Evelyn Nesbit, fairy, in an aftermath of entertaining she had withdrawn her opposition to efforts of Harry K. Thaw to regain his freedom. He was recently declared sane by a jury in Philadelphia.

Evelyn Nesbit

Miss Nesbit denied that any settlement had been made upon herself or upon her son Russell.

Judge John Monaghan had set next Monday for argument on the appeal from a jury's decision which declared Stanford White's slayer sane. The application was made by William R. Gray, of Philadelphia.

"Announce to the world that Evelyn was never more fit to take care of herself, but Russell must be provided for under any circumstances," said Thaw's former wife.

Miss Nesbit said that she had written Mr. Gray of her decision and had received an acknowledgment from his office in his absence.

"My decision in the matter is final," she declared. "I hesitated a long time before reaching a decision, but realized it was no use for a working girl to battle the Thaw millions. I haven't the money to do it with any degree of success.

"With the withdrawal of the objection on the part of the trustees of the estate, it leaves the whole burden of expense to me. I am earning good money, but thousands count and not hundreds against the big odds which one must face in a case of this nature.

"This Thaw case has been dragging along for years, and it will continue to drag for years more. I am awfully tired and sick of the whole business. But a mother will battle against any odds when her son is concerned, and Thaw will have to make some provision for him."

CLINTON MILL MEN ACCEPT 4-DAY WEEK

PORTUGUESE FLIERS INJURED IN INDIA

Allahabad, India, May 8 (I.N.S.).—The Portuguese long distance fliers who left Karrachi today for Agra are reported to have crashed at Pipar. The fliers were but slightly injured.

The mishap of the fliers was due to their being caught in a storm of cyclonic intensity. The fliers were Lieutenant Paes, Lieutenant Beiro and a mechanic.

KEEPS FRANCE POSTED ON REPARATIONS

London, May 8.—Great Britain is keeping France fully posted upon every step taken regarding reparations, the foreign office stated today. Premier MacDonald sent Premier Poincare a formal, informative letter outlining the results of the Anglo-Belgian conference. Officials pointed out that the government merely wanted to let the French Government know the British attitude and to assure Paris that the British will take no step without notifying the French.

FIGHT SINCLAIR OIL HOLDINGS IN PERSIA

Moscow, May 8.—Russian News Agency reports from Teheran declare that the movement against the present dynastic regime in Persia is serving as the cloak for a scheme to upset the Sinclair oil concessions in Northern Persia, control of which is desired by the Royal Dutch and a French company, said to be sponsored by the Standard Oil. The Premier, however, is energetically demanding approval of the American concessions and striving to bring an agreement among all factions.

SEIZE SWINDLER WHO GOT $15,000 IN BANK

New York, May 8.—Bernard A. Maron was arrested today charged with the theft of $15,000 from the Canal Street branch of the Capital National Bank last March.

Police said Maron advertised as a bank president who needed an assistant paying teller and asked applicants to send their letters of recommendation. Equipped with letters belonging to William Barry, he obtained a position at the bank and disappeared with the money within five days.

2 CO-DEFENDENTS OF LANGLY PLEAD GUILTY

Covington, Ky., May 8.—Walter H. Carey, Canton, O., and M. E. Huth, Alliance, O., two of the four co-defendants of Representative John W. Langley, Kentucky, on trial in Federal Court here on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government through a whiskey transaction in 1921, reversed their pleas of not guilty and entered formal pleas of guilty when court convened today.

SLAYER OF RICH FARMER HANGED IN ONTARIO

First ... in 36 Years

Welland, Ont., May 8.—William Albert Canfield was hanged in the court yard of the Welland County Jail early today for the murder of Albert J. Morningstar, wealthy bachelor farmer. Canfield was pronounced dead eleven seconds after the trap was sprung.

Canfield, who confessed, walked alone to the gallows, apparently cool and without nervousness. He was the first person to be hanged in Welland County in thirty-six years.

The last was Arthur Day, of Rochester, who was convicted of murdering his wife by shoving her over the Niagara Gorge bank.

Archdeacon N. I. Perry, of the Church of England, and Captain Johnson of the Salvation Army remained with Canfield until a few minutes before he ascended the gallows.

... WILL ... CORNERSTONE

Bridgeport, May 8.—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding has accepted the invitation of the local Board of Education to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the new Warren G. Harding High school next Saturday. She will be accompanied by George H. Christian, Jr., who was secretary to President Harding. A silver trowel to be used will be suitably engraved and presented to Mrs. Harding.

TOBACCO USERS GET CANCER, SAYS DENTIST

Cobblers and Carpenters Who Put Nails in Mouth Also Subject to It

The anti-tobacco enthusiasts will probably jump at this one!

It's one more crime to be laid at the door of tobacco and another argument why women shouldn't smoke!

Cancer of the mouth is found most frequently in men who use tobacco!

At a meeting of the Massachusetts Dental Society at the Copley Plaza, Dr. Channing C. Simmons of Boston delivered an address about cancer of the mouth.

"Most men use tobacco in some form and I have been impressed recently to find how many men chew as well as smoke. It is not uncommon to find cancer of the cheek on the side on which the quid is held," Dr. Simmons said.

And it isn't the tobacco addict alone that is a sufferer from this serious disease. Hard-working men who have habits peculiar to their trades are also victims.

"There have been several cases in our clinic of cancer of the floor of the mouth in cobblers or carpenters who were in the habit of holding nails under the tongue."

Dr. Simmons went on further to explain, "Poorly fitting plates, bridge work, caps and other forms of dental apparatus have a definite relation to cancer. Carcinoma of the alveolar processor hard plate is not rare and usually means that the patient did not report to have the plate adjusted as the shape of the jaw changed. The irritation from rough teeth and pyorrhea is also important."

In its early stages cancer appears as a painless small tumor or ulcer and is often neglected. To lower our mortality from cancer it is necessary to educate the public as to the early symptoms and to consult a physician for any suspicious lesion."

RUSSIAN BISHOP GETS UNUSUAL PAPAL HONOR

Recently Imprisoned Head of Church Greeted at Station in Rome by Pope's Secretary

Rome, May 8.—The arrival in Rome today of Archbishop Zepliak, head of the Catholic Church in Russia, recently released from imprisonment by the Soviet authorities, was marked by one of the most exceptional ceremonies in the annals of the Holy See.

For the first time in history, it is believed, the papal secretary of state went to the railway station to receive and greet a prelate of this ranking.

Pope Pius ordered Cardinal Gasparri to represent him at the station and welcome Archbishop Zepliak and also sent his Major-Domo, master of the chamber and private chamberlain who, together with the Polish minister accredited to the Holy See, formed a notable group of official personages entrusted with conveying the papal salutations to the visitor.

Dr. Foulkes Goes to Cleveland

Philadelphia, May 8.—Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, secretary of the Presbyterian General Council, today received the resignation of Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, general secretary of the Presbyterian New Era Organization, to take effect October 1. Dr. Foulkes will become pastor of the old Stone (First) Presbyterian Church of Cleveland.

BOY SCOUTS TO RAISE FLAG FOR COOLIDGE

Northampton, May 8.—Boy Scouts of this city will hold a flag-raising at the home of President Coolidge here Saturday afternoon, when a flag given by the Chamber of Commerce will be flown from a pole in front of the Massasoit street house. Judge E. L. Shaw, president of the Coolidge Club and a close friend of the President, will be the chief speaker.

YOUNG MOTHER TRIES SUICIDE IN MYSTERY

Whatever it was that was said while George Gauthier and Ruth, his young wife, were walking out with the baby, Mrs. Gauthier left her husband and the tiny one and, going back alone to their Somerville apartment, brooded an hour or so and then turned on the gas and lay down to wait for death.

She is 26 years old.

Gauthier, arriving at No. 12 Craigie street an hour and a half later, was shocked to discover one end of a gas tube in his wife's mouth and the other fastened to the gas jet.

FOUND NEAR DEATH

The young woman was only semi-conscious.

Her husband, holding the baby on one arm, telephoned to the police and Mrs. Gauthier was removed to Somerville Hospital. Her condition, it was said there some time afterwards, is not necessarily serious.

For some time past, Gauthier said, Ruth had been complaining of severe headaches. She had become extremely nervous and rather supersensitive.

"We left the house together at 3 o'clock," said the young husband, "and I pushed the baby-carriage. We had been out half an hour when Mrs. Gauthier said she was not feeling well and would return to the house.

MYSTERY TO HUSBAND.

"There was no reason, she said, why baby and I should not remain out and enjoy the air.

"I did not dream that anything like this was in her mind. If I had I would have gone with her and prevented it. Nor can I remember that anything was said that should have upset her so. There had been no quarrel, and I can imagine no reason for her action other than the condition of her health."

LABOR GOVERNMENT FACES CRUCIAL TEST

London, May 8 (A.P.)—New York today will be a critical day for the Labor government of Great Britain as Prime Minister MacDonald has accepted the gage thrown down by the Conservatives and will consider before Premier Baldwin's motion for retention of the McKenna duties as a motion of censure. The result of the vote is problematical as the motion probably will result in a row lineup of members. Most of the Conservatives are against abandonment of the McKenna duties as well as a number of Liberals and Laborites. Whether the government would resign in case of an adverse vote is not yet clear.

Fancy Shoes Ruining Women's Feet, Says Tanner

Atlantic City, N. J., May 8.—The present style trend in women's shoes and the use of rubber heels were scored by the Tanners' Council of America in convention here.

Frazer M. Moffat, president of the council, said that fancy footwear is ruining the feet of the nation's women.

In support of this contention he laid claim to the fact that there are ten times as many women undergoing foot treatment as there are men.

"Real leather shoes" were advocated as a remedy for foot ills, from which Moffat claimed 50 per cent. of the people are suffering.

U. S. CONSULATE IN NEWCASTLE TO REOPEN

Long-Standing Dispute With British Over Passenger Vises Is Settled

Newcastle, England, May 8 (A.P.).—The imbroglio over the American consulate nearly two years ago was satisfactorily ended today when C. H. Nasmith, the new American consul, called officially on the Lord Mayor as a preliminary to the reopening of the offices.

Mr. Nasmith expects that the reopened consulate will be doing business in a fortnight.

The consulate has been closed since May, 1922, when the British government revoked the exequatur of Consul Fred C. Slater and Vice-Consul N. Brooks, charging they had discriminated against British passenger ships in granting vises to travelers.

The matter was the subject of many discussions between former Ambassador Harvey and the Baldwin government and again was taken up by Ambassador Kellogg shortly after his arrival in London.

YOU SPOIL CHILD BY SPARING ROD DOCTOR SAYS

Punishment for Disobedient Is Right, He Says in Health Talk

By GRACE DESCHAMPS.

Don't be afraid to punish your child—

To slap his hands when he is disobedient, to threaten him with other forms of punishment, and to visit it upon him when words fail of treatment.

"I'm just enough of a heretic to believe that pain and punishment are necessary in the upbringing of a child inasmuch as life itself is made of pain and punishment."

This statement by Dr. Abraham Myerson, professor of neurology at Tufts College Medical School, brought forth a storm of applause from physicians, teachers and nurses at the Health Institute in session at the John Hancock Building when the noted neurologist declared himself disenthralled with the atmosphere of "hyper-aesthetic-ism" that surrounds many children today.

"Fear seems to have been pretty well eliminated from our modern life but it's still a good wholesome emotion. If your child doesn't learn to face the consequences of evil acts at home, society may have to teach him with a course in jail.

"Make your child earn whatever you give him. If it's a toy or candy or a trip to the movies or a book or some other pleasure, make him pay for it in advance. He'll have to pay for things when he's older, and it's the most wholesome way to enjoy them.

"The golden rule of parents toward children should be: 'Thou shalt not deprive the child of his childhood.' Childhood is supposed to be an apologetic existence preliminary to adulthood. I disagree with that attitude heartily. Childhood is an existence complete and sufficient unto itself.

"Make your children good, happy children, not with a view to their later life, but for the sake of their childhood and their manhood and womanhood will take care of themselves."

PLAN SPEEDY TRIAL FOR BABY'S KIDNAPER

Philadelphia, May 8.—Speedy indictment and immediate trial of Mrs. Mary De Marco, kidnaper of ten-weeks-old Corinne Modell, is planned. Mrs. De Marco, on the verge of collapse after her arrest yesterday afternoon sat calm and unemotional in her cell today. Her one thought was for her husband Anthony, held as a material witness, who is innocent, she declares.

Two varying stories were told by the kidnaper previous to her arrest. To her physician she admitted she stole the infant to deceive her husband. To the police she said, "I am guilty," but insisted another woman handed her the baby.

MIDNIGHT HYMN SINGING AT STATE HOUSE

Costumed B. U. Students Hold Novel Event in Music Week Program

A program of recitals, chorus singing and concerts throughout the city featured observance of Music Week in Boston.

In the afternoon boy and girl scouts and Camp Fire girls sang patriotic songs outside City Hall and on the State House steps.

Early in the evening the Dorchester Choral Class gave a concert at the State prison. The prison orchestra played and the prisoners sang community songs.

The day's program was closed at midnight when costumed students from Boston University School of Religion sang hymns on the State House steps. Masterpieces in color were presented by students in tableaux under the light of hundreds of vari-colored electric torches.

The Traffic Squad Band, under the leadership of Joseph Sullivan played at the Parkman Bandstand on the Common.

"Bottled Sunlight" Only Sea Salt, Says Expert

New York, May 8.—"Bottled Sunlight," a bulb which its inventor, Joan J. Tomadelli, claimed would burn three years without attention, was declared to be contrary to all scientific knowledge by experts testifying at the trial of the injunction suit to restrain further sale of stock in the Tomadelli Electronic Corporation, the promoting company.

Common sea salt, tin and copper were the elements which, Tomadelli asserted, burned in lamp. Dr. Clayton H. Sharp testified.

"You might as well screw a pipe of wood into an electric socket and expect light," Dr. Sharp said.

Witnesses for Tomadelli had testified that the inventor had succeeded in producing a glow in the bulbs, but never had succeeded in actually lighting one since a successful lamp was destroyed in Buenos Aires in 1919 by a thunder storm.

BARING POISON CASE POSTPONED 10 DAYS

White Plains, N. Y., May 8 (I.N.S.) —Clarence O. Baring, held without bail here, will have a few days' respite from the ordeal of going to trial on a charge of attempting to murder his wife by feeding her arsenic and disease germ cultures.

County Judge Brinkley postponed until May 22 the trial which had been set for May 12, when Baring's counsel submitted affidavits asserting he needed time in which to take the depositions of witnesses in distant cities.

DEMAND PROBE OF LOWELL GAS RATE

Complainants Declare That "Reduction" Really Makes Small Users Pay More

Lowell, May 8.—Instead of a supposed reduction, the new rates recently put into effect by the Lowell Gas Light Company are really increases for the small users, according to a complaint filed with the Department of Public Utilities.

The complaint, filed by Representative Thomas J. Corbett, asks for a public hearing with the view of obtaining a reduction.

It is signed by Representative Charles H. Slowey and Owen E. Brennan, both of Lowell, as well as a number of other prominent residents.

RATE LOOKED GOOD.

The change in rates went into effect on April 1 last, with the approval of Mayor J. Donovan, on the ground that the price was to be reduced.

Actually, however, it means a material increase for the small users of gas, it is claimed. The old maximum net rate was $1.40 per thousand cubic feet, while the new rate, instead of being lower, works out at $1.76 per thousand cubic feet.

Under the new rates the first 100 cubic feet costs 70 cents minimum, and the next 400 cubic feet, 14 cents.

HOUSEHOLDERS PAY.

The reduction is included from that figure on, the next 12,000 feet costing 12 cents, so that the big consumer gets the benefit and the householders pay the freight, according to the complainants.

The company has 27,600 customers, approximately, the majority of them being householders, it is claimed.

Last year it is said the Lowell Gas Light Company made a net profit of more than $196,000.

The complainants point out that in practically every community throughout the State, the price of gas has been decreased, headed by Boston, where the Boston Consolidated Gas Company cut the figure from $1.25 per thousand to $1.20.

4-YEAR OLD SON KEPT FROM MOTHER'S ARMS

MRS. DORIS HOLSWORTH

Wife of landscape architect suing him for divorce, whose husband refused to allow their son to go to her Dedham court house, despite his pathetic cries to be allowed to greet her.

HOLSWORTHS IN COURT BATTLE OVER SON

Hearts were stirred in sympathy in the corridor of the Norfolk County Probate Court at Dedham, for a four-year-old boy who was not permitted to go to his mother.

The boy is Charles Holsworth, elder son of Wayne C. Holsworth landscape architect of Norfolk Heights, and his wife, Doris, now residing her home with her wealthy mother, at Windsor, Ct.

CUSTODY DECISION.

The question before Judge Joseph R. McCoole was whether the father or the mother should have the custody of young Charles pending trial of his mother's suit for divorce, scheduled to begin on Tuesday, June 3.

Judge McCoole will announce his decision today.

Holsworth, a husky six-footer, did not enter the court room while attorneys argued the question of custody, but with little Charles walked the nearby street and bought him candy stops and soda fountains.

Finally, they stepped into the court-house corridor together and the boy saw his pretty and petite mother.

CRIES FOR MOTHER.

"There's Mamma!" he cried. "Mamma! Mamma! Take me to her, Daddy!"

But Holsworth carried him away.

Another son, Donald Campbell Holsworth, now two months old, has been born at Windsor since Mrs. Holsworth instituted divorce proceedings and went home to mother.

Holsworth has brought suit against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Marion Campbell, for $50,000 alienation of affection.

WOMAN THROWS BUNDLE INTO RIVER, FLEES

Residents of that section of Brookline avenue, Roxbury, opposite the Winthrop School, saw a woman in black approach the Muddy River, throw in a bundle, drop her cape, and flee.

Thomas McGann, one of the startled witnesses of the incident, followed the fleeing woman into Washington street, through back yards to South Huntington avenue, where he lost sight of her.

He immediately informed Patrolman McNulty of what he had seen. The officer accompanied McGann back to the river and there found the woman's cape and glasses on the ground.

By that time a large crowd had gathered and were watching with interest the mysterious bundle floating in the river. Patrolman McNulty secured a pole and after great difficulty succeeded in fishing it out of the water.

Then before the curious gaze of the crowd, the bundle was opened and disclosed several articles of women's lingerie.

The "mystery woman" was described as about thirty-five years old, five feet, seven inches tall, and wearing a black hat.

TRIPLE KILLING HINGES ON LAST COURT APPEAL

If Plea Is Refused Kentucky Will Electrocute 3 Murderers Tomorrow

Eddyville, Ky., May 8.—Whether the first triple legal electrocution in Kentucky is staged in the Western State penitentiary here early tomorrow depends upon possibility of presentation to the Supreme Court of a plea for a writ of error in the case of Frank Thomas, 21, murderer, and action of that high tribunal.

The aged man, with a record of three men slain, faces the chair for the killing in Jefferson county of his friend and benefactor, Lee Arbeeste.

With Thomas in the prison death house are George Welch, sentenced to die for the murder near Louisville, of William Oelke, a fellow farmer, and Charles Miller, negro, given the death penalty for murder of two railroad guards.

An effort to carry Thomas' case to the Supreme court marks the final skirmish in probably the most stubborn legal battle in the state's history to save a condemned person.

In 1923, shortly before the date set for his execution a jury declared him insane. Some time later a Circuit court jury there declared he was sane. An appeal was taken and the Circuit court's findings affirmed. Counsel will appear before the Supreme court today in a final effort to obtain intervention.

Meanwhile the aged prisoner apparently had abandoned hope and declared he was ready to die.

WELLESLEY JUNIORS' PAGEANT BIGGEST YET

Announcement was made today of the election of Junior class officers at Wellesley. Miss Helen Quigley of Lock Haven, Pa., was chosen president; Miss Ina Hards of Mt. Vernon, N. MAY SUE TO TAKE BACK BIG SLICE OF OIL LAND

Search of Files Fails to Show Harding Ever Approved Leasing by Fall

Washington, May 8.—Court action by the government to recover 7,057 acres in the Buena Vista, California Naval oil reserve, leased by Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall to the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Corporation, loomed as a strong possibility today.

C. Finney, assistant secretary of interior, reported he was unable to find in the department's files any record that Fall obtained the approval of President Harding to lease the reserve.

The law specifically provides that leases upon the public domain must receive the approval of the President.

Ex-Governor J. V. Gillette of California, counsel for the Honolulu company in a brief filed with the committee today, declared Harding gave Fall blanket authority to lease the reserves. He further said that the validity of the lease had been established in courts and that a decree favoring the company was handed down.

For relinquishing all its rights in the reserve to the government, Gillett said Fall granted the company a lease. The company has already spent more than $1,000,000 in development work there.

CHORUS GIRL ASKS $25,000 FOR BURNS

New York, May 8.—Lois Wilde of the Ziegfeld Follies chorus must submit to a physical and an oral examination May 16 to determine the extent of the injuries she claims to have received, she sued the Hotel Astor for $25,000 damages.

Miss Wilde alleges that April 14, 1922, she obtained an electric curling iron at the Astor. The current was short-circuited, she says, and she was severely burned about the wrist.

When the INDICAN Shows --Beware

CONSTIPATION means danger. Not because it makes your head ache. Not because it makes your breath foul, your taste bad and stomach bilious. And not because it saps your pep.

The danger is contamination by poisonous products. Fifty pounds of poison is handed over every little while to your body. Too little point to your body.

So you dare to make a test to prove that you are free from poisons considered toxic and absorbed under such a test in the presence of INDICAN, and failure to find any trace of it, for in that out if your blood is clean.

Carter's Liver Pills, noted for relieving the alimentary canal, relieve the intestinal sluggishness that causes the INDICAN evil.

Make This Test Now. Get a 25c package today of Carter's Little Liver Pills. Follow the directions in each package. Then when you feel out of health, no appetite, bad stomach, bad breath—a test usually indicates INDICAN, just as in the picture.

Same person, after taking Carter's Little Liver Pills for a few days—note the clean, normal tongue. FREE FROM INDICAN.

Next, take another test made and see how the INDICAN disappears and blackheads, pimples and that pasty complexion give way to clear skin and that healthy glow that only comes when you are FREE FROM INDICAN.

Important: Carter's Little Liver Pills, used for 47 years by millions annually, are now sold in the world over. Don't accept substitutes. Insist on getting the genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the signature on the package. Price 25c. Genuine must bear signature

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

A single teaspoonful of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN Will restore good humor

Mothers!! Apply Common Sense

THIS is the era of the prevention of disease and sensible people do not wait until sickness has actually come before remedying the trouble. The crowded hospitals everywhere are sad examples of the results of neglect. Be especially watchful of children. Restlessness, lack of normal appetite and feverishness usually indicate constipation. Stop it that instant with a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will have prevented real sickness. Mrs. Ida Williamson of 1657 Pine St., Long Beach, Cal. and Mrs. Lou Brawley of Selfe, Ark., never have illness in the family because of their prompt use of Syrup Pepsin.

A Great Family Laxative

It may be difficult to decide just what medicine to use out of the many that are offered, but it would not be if you knew the facts. There are laxatives, cathartics, purgatives and physics, and they vary in their reaction on the system. Naturally, the stronger the medicine the more it shocks the system, so wise parents nevergive anything but a laxative to children. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and desirable aromatics, and so appreciated that it is now the largest selling preparation of its kind in the world, over 40 million bottles being used annually. The formula is on every package.

Three Rules of Health

Purchase a bottle of Syrup Pepsin at a drug store and always keep one in the family medicine chest. Give it to anyone from infant to grandparent. For it is safe, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. You can keep a family healthy with just this simple medicine. Give it for constipation, torpid liver, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, colds and other evidence of bowel obstruction. Dr. Caldwell, who was a practicing physician for 47 years and who originated this formula, had three rules of health that he found very effective among his patients and which you can follow with great benefit: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, and be a regular.

Satisfy Yourself You Want to Try It Free Before Buying

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could no go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken 12 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. Beauchamp, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

SUNDAY, MAY 11th, IS MOTHERS' DAY

THEREFORE, on this day, sacred to Mothers and Motherhood, we should highly resolve to return to the plainer standards and truer values of a simple age; to honor Motherhood and its temple, the Home, as the most vital and valuable thing in our civilization. On Mothers' Day we acknowledge our great debt, not merely by the wearing of pinks and the offering of gifts, but rather by the more spiritual token of sincere appreciation and grateful utterance in tribute to Her whose tender care and solicitude,, eternal faith and relentless sacrifice has made us all that we are today.

INCE HAPPY ENOUGH; WON'T WED DANCER

LUCILA MENDEZ

Spanish dancer, whom report has it is to become the bride of Ralph Ince. Denial is made by Ince, who says he is not contemplating divorce from his present wife. Miss Mendez has recently been appearing on the stage in New York, but left for the coast after announcing that she had signed a contract to appear in a new picture to be made by Thomas H. Ince, under the direction of his brother Ralph. She is 18 years old and was born in Venezuela.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—Ralph Ince today denied reports that he will seek his freedom in order to marry Lucila Mendez, a Spanish dancer. He declared that he and his wife are living amicably together.

Lucila has been appearing in the cast of "Little Jessie James" at the New Amsterdam Theatre on Forty-fourth street, New York City.

Ince announced last week that she had signed a contract for a part in a picture to be made by Thomas H. Ince, under direction of his brother Ralph. She left for the east Monday night.

Miss Mendez is nineteen and was born in Cuba to Venezuelan parents. She came to the United States before the war and has been on the stage about two years.

She first became acquainted with Ralph Ince when she appeared in a production the latter directed.

GEN. MONROE, 99, DEAD IN ARLINGTON

General Nelson Monroe, nineteenth Civil War veteran to die, died at his home, 174 Westminster avenue, Arlington Heights. He was a native of Maine. His funeral will be held from the Arlington Street Methodist Church, where Mr. Monroe was a member of the Marcellus Post, G. A. R., now serving as Post Commander. His age is estimated in the Marcellus Post history for 1924 at 99 years.

They believe the confession will result in pardons for the Rollins brothers, Governor Goodrich of Massachusetts has given the boys no promise as to executive clemency.

Murphy made another confession in which he said Charles Rollins had told him he had killed Hall. Murphy said he was forced to tell the truth because he had been promised immunity from prosecution if he would tell all he knew about the murder.

KILLS MAD DOG THAT ATTACKED 2 WOMEN

Chicago, May 8.—A mad dog that attacked Mrs. John Brun and her daughter Hazel on the Brun farm in Lemont street and kept them prisoners in a chicken house for an hour was shot by Dr. John B. Andrews, dog officer.

The dog, a mongrel resembling a Spitz, but of much larger build, leaped at the women as they were putting the hens accused to bed in the barn last night. The two women were saved by help Dr. Andrews found the dog with a single shot.

ACT TO FREE HUB HAS ROLLINS BROTHERS FEWEST MURDERS

Counsel for Dorchester Lifers Going to Inspect Jesse Murphy's Latest Confession

Only 3.9 Per 100,000 Here Compared to 65 Per 100,000 in Memphis, Tenn.

Another attempt to exonerate and free George E. and Charles Rollins of Dorchester, serving life sentences in State prison for the alleged murder of two tea store managers, is under way.

Charles Rollins George E. Rollins

Major Thomas H. William R. Scarlett, counsel for the brothers, is preparing to leave Boston tomorrow for Marquette, Mich., where they will spend a week with Murphy in the Marquette County jail.

Murphy, now serving a life sentence in the Marquette County jail for killing a Detroit policeman, confessed the murder of Hall to Scarlett.

Major Thomas H. Sullivan

Human life is safer in Boston than in any other large city in the United States.

If you live in the Hub there are only 3.9 chances out of 100,000 that you will be murdered in the next year.

If you lived in Memphis, Tenn., however, you would run sixty-five chances out of 100,000 of being shot, killed, poisoned or in some other violent manner sent to death within the next twelve month.

These figures which give Boston such a high standing in freedom from homicide have been prepared by Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman of the Prudential Insurance Company.

While Boston's rate of violent deaths is low, the increase in the courts at large is appalling, according to Dr. Hoffman's figures.

400 PER CENT. INCREASE.

The rate of homicide for the entire United States was 10.2 per 100,000 in 1923, an increase of 12 over 1922 and an increase of 100 per cent in twenty years.

"There were 10,000 murders in this country last year," says Dr. Hoffman. "On the basis of population it is twenty-five times as many as occurred in England and three times as many as occurred in Italy.

"Boston stands well below New York in the number of murders. In New York in 1923 there were 5.5 per 100,000 while Chicago stood at 12.7. Philadelphia's rate was 3.2. St. Louis 9.1, and New Orleans 24.9.

"The figures show that the murder rate in the large cities of the South was much higher than in those of the North.

HIGHEST IN SOUTH.

"Memphis, which had sixty-five murders per 100,000 in 1923, had a population of less than 200,000. Of 113 persons who were murdered during twelve months in Birmingham, England, with a population of 1,000,000, only five during the same period.

"Jacksonville, Fla., runs Memphis a close second with a rate of 49.7 in increase of 15.8 in a single year. New Orleans, La., has a rate of 24.9, while Nashville, Tenn., is 18.7. Charleston, S. C., is well among the leaders with 24.1. Mobile, Ala., has 23.4, and Savannah, Ga., has 21.2.

"The sale of firearms by mail order houses would stop them into States where the sale of such weapons is not prohibited, is held by Dr. Hoffman as one of the reasons for the increase.

NEGRO WOMAN PUT ON Y. W. C. A. BOARD

Mrs. George Haynes of New York has been elected to the national board of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Haynes is a Baptist, a member of the Colored Branch of the New York City Association, a member of the Council on Colored Work and the first negro woman to serve on the national board.

New England women on the board are Miss Grace Hodgkins of Stamford, Ct.; Miss Mary E. Woolley, president of Mt. Holyoke College; Mrs. John French, first wife of Governor Alvan T. Fuller of Massachusetts; Miss Clara S. Reed, Springfield, and Mrs. George W. Davidson, Greenwich, Ct.

CHICAGO SCHOOL DEADLOCK EVADED

Chicago, May 8.—A deadlock between William McAndrew, superintendent of schools, who forbade teachers' councils during school hours, and the Teachers' Federation affiliated with the Federation of Labor which declared the councils would be held and demanded the superintendent's resignation, was evaded temporarily today when it was announced in the absence of Superintendent McAndrew that the council could be held this week. The board have called a mass meeting for late today.

Dr. McAndrew had opposed dismissal of pupils for an entire afternoon to permit the councils on the ground that parents protested.

VT. WOMAN LEFT $100,000 GEMS IN TAXI

New York, May 8.—Notified that a taxicab chauffeur had turned in to police headquarters $100,000 worth of jewelry she left in a taxicab here Mrs. Charles May Swift of Forrestburg, Vt., today wired authorities to send her the name of the chauffeur. It was believed she intended to reward the man's honesty. Mrs. Swift left the jewels in the cab that took her from the Plaza Hotel to the railroad station. The chauffeur was John Cody of Astoria, N. Y.

BURNED PLAYING WITH DOLLS

VICTIMS OF MISHAP

Seven little children, burned by escaping steam while playing with some dolls in the cellar of their home, 79 East Lenox street, East Boston, yesterday afternoon, are shown in the picture. Mary Cosco, No. 73 East Lenox street, and Ruth Gerrigan, 31 Marion street, No. 29 Byron street. The latter child is shown holding her doll.

HOW CHILDREN WERE SCALDED

Photo shows exhaust pipe of Harrison avenue laundry plant against which little south End girls placed their dolls. When the steam belched forth in a blinding cloud both of the girls were swept off their feet and scalded. They had thought the pipe harmless.

TWO GIRLS ARE SCALDED BY LIVE STEAM

An innocent looking pipe projecting a short distance out of the ground did not seem to be the cause of any of two little girls as they played about with their dollhouses in an area way at Harrison avenue and Clinton street, South End.

The children had no way of knowing that the pipe was a steam exhaust from the Boston City Laundry, across the wall.

There came a sharp hissing, followed by dense clouds of steam. Neighbors heard the screams of the two girls as they endeavored to rescue from the scalding clouds.

Mary Cosco, aged four of No. 73 East Dedham street, was painfully scalded about the hands and legs. Her playmate, Gertrude Mc Marcus, aged two of No. 30 Byron street, sustained scalds on both legs.

The neighbors summoned an ambulance and the children were taken to the Boston City Hospital. The older girl was able to go to her home after her injuries were treated. The younger one is still in a critical condition at the hospital and it will be many days before she is able to walk again.

In the vicinity of the laundry the indignation of the parents runs high. They declare that it is surprising that other children have not been injured by the steam.

CARDINAL HAYES BLESSES THE "69TH"

New York, May 8.—The colors of the "Fighting 69th Regiment," now the 165th New York, and the assembled men of the well known military unit, today had the blessing of Patrick, Cardinal Hayes. The Cardinal, who as a boy thrilled to the sight of the 69th swinging by, listened to an address by Colonel John J. Phelan, who pointed out that the Regiment was composed mainly of men of Irish ancestry and Roman Catholic faith. The Cardinal, answering, told of his boyhood days in lower New York, and his constant interest in the regiment.

President Abandons Early Walks Owing To Stress of Work

Washington, May 8.—The steadily increasing pressure of work at the Capitol incident to the approach of a congressional adjournment has brought its result at the White House in the usual abandonment by President Coolidge of the early morning walks he has been accustomed to take regularly and he entered the White House.

Although still practicing the habit of arising early, Mr. Coolidge recently has been forgoing the walks in order to spend the time in his study going over legislation. His only exercise nowadays is a long walk in the evening just after he leaves his office for the day.

Indiana Klan Candidate Is Victor by 27,000 Votes

Indianapolis, May 8.—With only a few scattered precincts in the State not to be heard from, Ed Jackson, Secretary of State and supported by the Ku Klux Klan, had piled up a majority of 27,000 votes over his opponents for the Republican nomination for Governor.

President Coolidge was leading Hiram Johnson for the Presidential nomination by over 20,000 votes.

U. JOHNSON HAS ONLY 13 VOTES

Senator La Follette's Strength Consists of 28 From Home State

San Francisco, May 8.—Indications today were that President Coolidge's majority in California presidential primaries may reach 50,000. With about 1,000 precincts yet to be heard from the count stood: Coolidge 284,113; Johnson 239,851, a lead for the President of 44,892. The victory of President Coolidge marks the first defeat of Senator Johnson at the hands of California voters in 18 years.

Washington, May 8 (Universal).—There was undisguised delight at the White House as successive reports from California emphasized President Coolidge's victory over Senator Hiram Johnson in the Presidential preference primary.

With the President's nomination assured by the vote already cast there was needed only the triumph over his principal rival in the Golden State to sweeten prospects.

The 20 votes from California, plus the 33 from Indiana and from Texas, gained the President convention total booming to 888 of the 1,109 delegates.

Administration spokesmen, counting on more than 1,000 Coolidge votes on the first ballot to achieve next month Senator La Follette's have 24 votes from his home state of Wisconsin and Senator Johnson from South Dakota.

Only three more primaries are held on Friday of next week. Oregon will instruct its 13 delegates. With victory in that convention assured, the Coolidge managers expect to carry the State without difficulty despite the Japanese exclusion issue. On May 27 West Virginia will choose 19 delegates and Montana 11.

Who will win Lewis or Stasiak?

There's a job for the crystal gazer.

We have been trying to answer this question for ourself for a week. First we liked Lewis, then Stasiak. The more we studied the dope sheets the greater became our confusion.

Our final decision is that the bout is a toss-up.

Either Lewis or Stasiak may win. The champion's advantage is experience. Stasiak's that of youth and power.

The Strangler will receive a severer test than he has for the past two years to retain his championship.

AMATEUR RING STARS IN TITLE BOUTS TONIGHT

Tonight the annual New England boxing championships will be staged in Mechanics Building, and with the large entry list available it is likely they will prove to be the best ever staged by the veteran New England athletic organization.

Every known star in the amateur ranks has entered and from the first bell to the last one there will be action aplenty.

In the 160-pound class there should be unusual interest this year. In the past the class was not popular, but with the entries of Bart O'Neil of Roxbury and Johnny Maisirelle of Peabody the fans are promised a real treat.

The eight championship classes in which contests will be staged are 112, 118, 124, 134, 147, 160, 175 and heavyweight.

With the approaching National Championships together with the fact that the U. S. Olympic boxing team which sails for Paris June 16, there also will be more interest than usual. The New England team for the Olympic tryouts will be selected.

The fans who attend the show also are promised that there will be no delay. The bouts will be run off as quickly as possible and every precaution will be taken with everyone of the simon pures.

Although there has been a steady rush of tickets for many days there still are a few seats left, and they may be obtained at Room 8, 29 School street, as well as at the Boston Athletic Association, Exeter street, Back Bay and at the building tonight.

SHADE DEFEATS RATNER BY SPIRITED FINISH

By RINGSIDE.

Dave Shade flashed with his old speed and walloping power and won over Jackie Ratner of New York by a decisive margin in their ten-round bout at the Suffola A. A.'s show at the Boston Arena.

Ratner with his whole style suited the fighting Hebrew. By elevating his left shoulder and dropping his head upon his chest Ratner makes it almost impossible for an opponent to hit him with a right hand sock to the jaw.

During the early rounds Shade let drive with a flock of right hand socks. He soon discovered it was impossible for him to count to the jaw in this way.

The skilful Californian then did some heavy thinking and mapped out a plan of attack which would enable him to get inside of Ratner's famous defense.

Beginning with the fifth round Shade began crashing heavy left hooks to the jaw. These blows straightened Ratner up. After a couple of rounds of this punishment Shade was able to get his right over with a terrific wallop.

For the first four rounds it was a rather tame bout. Ratner had some fine footwork, while Shade was content to get his more heavy blows.

SHADE STARTED DRIVE IN FIFTH

Beginning with the fifth frame, Shade began to force the fighting. Ratner open up. The result was the fans were furnished with a speedy affair, free punching being in evidence until the finish. In the early rounds Ratner was knocked through the ropes during a wild scrap. He got back into the ring promptly and fought hard right along.

Shade's win was also a victory for Jack Conway's "dope," as the Boston Americano expert had picked the Californian to win.

WILLIE GRADWELL DEFEATS NEW JERSEY CHAMPION.

Willie Gradwell of Somerville got a fine battle in the semi-final eight rounds and easily defeated Joe Herman of Paterson, N. J., New Jersey lightweight champion. Willie's win was a severe blow [illegible] for the event, who were of the opinion Herman would finish on [illegible]

Jimmy Minton of New York, a flyweight, won over Wee Willie Woods of Lynn in another eight round bout. This was one of the [illegible] of the evening.

WALTER JOHNSON WILL TWIRL AGAINST SOX IN FINAL

FERGUSON IS SOX CHOICE

By NICK FLATLEY

Our Red Sox do their final polishing off for the Western invasion today, and incidentally start forth to establish a new victory record. The St. Louis Browns, with their new pastime, George Sisler, handle the outboard, and start off with the fans first and foremost in any and all departures he might make.

The early baseball pro position was called to his attention, which was tried out after he had sound ed out some of the fans.

The experiment was a success—the fans were happy—their wives were not forced to hold over the meals and there was a general feeling of content ment

Three o'clock baseball is going to be the rule at Fenway Park the rest of the season and we feel sure the fans will show their appreciation.

The accompanying Sport Editorials reproduced show how the American carried on the movement for earlier baseball. The Post was the only other Boston paper to even notice the permanent change in time.

The fans can now come early and avoid the rush.

COILS FOR SUPERFLEX MOUNTED ON BACKS OF CONDENSERS

MOUNTING OF THREE TYPES

Old Type Must Be Tipped; Not Necessary for the Other Types

By M. A. SIMMONS.

If you have built one of the old American Super you know all about how to mount the cylindrical type of coil for the American Super Amplex (Neutrodyne) (you shortened, some time ago to "Superflex")

These are tipped at an angle of 55 degrees with the base line, although this tip is not terribly critical. If you have no protractor, you can use your eye comparing the tip with that shown in the drawing.

Some of the condensers have mounting posts which are the right distance apart as the mounting screw hole in the coils in the diagram published yesterday. These are the Se-Ar-De, Na-Ald, National and Fahrham

STATOR POSTS USFD.

On other condensers, the stator plate posts can be used but it may be necessary to tip rotor a length or tubing to 4 inches (5 inches). Condensers have holes to the right left of the shaft, which is tipped to take a 6-32 screw. Used to mount the coils. was used in photo

...method of mounting the ...ench and honeycomb types is very simple. A strip of bakelite is used to clamp the coils to a mounting post.

The coils should be placed at least one inch away from the end plate of the condenser. If the plate is metal it may increase the chances of broadcasting and a half inches is recommended.

NEAT TRANSFORMER.

A very neat looking transformer may be made from the honeycomb coil type of unit in the following way:

Get some bakelite tubing two and a half inches in diameter and one and a quarter inches long. Have cut for you some bakelite in the form of a circle of a size that will slip into the end of this tubing and fit snugly. Place the coils in the proper binding posts on the outside and the result will be a neat, well protected coil.

The honeycomb type is very efficient and compact. A new type diamond weave coil is being developed that will fit both the American Super and the Superflex. We will let you know more about this coil later.

Tomorrow we will publish a full size panel layout for the single tube Super Reflex, together with the layout for the baseboard type. Don't miss any of the issues, as we cannot promise back copies

CARDINAL HAYES TO SPEAK AT WEAF

His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, will deliver a message on Catholic Charities to the radio audience of WEAF, New York; WCAP, Washington, D. C., and WJAR, Providence, R. I., next Sunday evening. The program will commence at nine o'clock with Herbert Hall Winslow's "Largo" played on the Saxophone. This will be followed by the Boys' Choir of St. Stephen's Church, Kari Kwiat, director. Then Everett Clark, tenor. The Cardinal's address will be preceded by a short introduction by Father Duffy, chaplain of the 165th Infantry, who will be remembered as the author of "Father Duffy's Story."

REFLEX COIL MOUNTINGS.

Figures 1 and 2 show how to mount the honeycomb type of coil on the back of the condensers. This type and the spiderweb type are not tipped. Figure 3 shows the mountings for the cylindrical type. These are tipped at an angle of about 55 degrees.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

Next month many thousands of boys and young men will be leaving school and college to start earning their own way in the world.

B. C. Forbes

Is it worth while for families in moderate or moderate circumstances to scrape and sacrifice to put their sons through college?

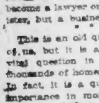
Is a college education of little value or is it of great value to the young man who does not intend to become a lawyer or doctor, or minister, but a business man?

* * *

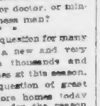
This is an old question for many of us, but it is a new and very vital question in thousands and thousands of homes at this season.

In fact, it is a question of great importance in more homes today than ever before, for the reason that a larger and larger number of those who go through college now enter the world of industry and commerce, instead of into professional life.

I have discussed this question with a hundred or more of men who have attained notable success outside of the "professions." There has been in recent years a change of attitude among such men.



Henry Ford



John D. Rockefeller

Ten or fifteen years ago the majority of our business leaders, particularly those who had not enjoyed a college education, took the view that the time spent at college could be more profitably spent gaining practical experience. In those days business and finance were not quite so complicated, were not conducted on quite so large a scale as today.

* * *

The more common view held now by successful men of affairs is that a college education is worth the price.

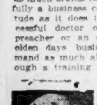
* * *

Business used to be largely a matter of rule-of-thumb. Such an expression as "the survival of the fittest" was not used by our fathers. Business was then much simpler than it is today. It was not confined to a more or less restricted area. Production was limited. Financing was largely a matter of a talk and an arrangement with the local banker or bankers.

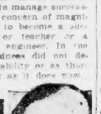
The study of economics, the study of worldwide conditions, the study of international politics and social and financial developments, the study of new markets in home and abroad—never was there so much as necessary as it is today.

* * *

I believe it will be generally admitted that a decade ago it required as much brains to manage successfully a business concern of magnitude as it does to become a successful doctor or teacher or a preacher or an engineer. In the olden days business did not demand as much ability or as thorough a training as it does now.



W. L. Douglas



George F. Baker

Of course, there are two sides to this question. A very large number of our business leaders never saw the inside of a college. Therefore to mind these names of men who did not graduate from college: Andrew Carnegie, George Eastman, James B. Duke, Henry Ford, John D. Rockefeller, James J. Hill, George F. Baker, Samuel Insull, John G. Shedd, Henry C. Frick, Frank W. Woolworth, Robert Dollar, William Boyce Thompson, A. C. Bedford, W. C. Durant, Thomas A. Edison, James A. Farrell, E. H. Harriman.

* * *

On the other hand, although only one per cent. it is estimated, of American men are college graduates, I recently read that there have come from this relatively small number:

55 per cent of our Presidents.

54 per cent of our Vice Presidents.

62 per cent of the Secretaries of State.

69 per cent of the Justices of the Supreme Court.

50 per cent of the Secretaries of the Treasury.

47 per cent of the Speakers of the House.

67 per cent of the Attorneys - General.

* * *

This column is prompted by the receipt of a little pamphlet by James Simpson president of Marshall Field & Company, "Business and the College Man." Mr. Simpson himself is not a college graduate. Read these extracts:

"Educated men are more and more turning their attention to the many phases of commercial activity. Industry and commerce, mining and merchandising, are their arena. These branches long have beckoned to college men, often in vain.

"The element of chance and speculation in business is yielding more and more to scientific organization and planning.

"A higher education serves as valuable background to a successful commercial career.

"To the young man seeking a business career I would say, select an institution of large size and known integrity. Apply for a position without regard to its remuneration. If you will supply courage and application, intelligence and enthusiasm, the position will come to you, whether you expect them or not."

This column will interest many besides young men:

"I can think, off hand, of more than a dozen positions in our own company that are waiting for good men to fill."

The sum and substance of the whole matter would seem to be this: Success has been frequently attained and can still be attained, without a college education, but as business and industry and finance become more and more far-reaching in their ramifications, a college education becomes more helpful.

"Four Horsemen" Are All Sold Lower in Generally Heavy New York Market

AMERICAN CAN AND BALDWIN OFF POINT

All the "Four Horsemen" of the New York stock market were sold lower. Generally the tone was heavy. U. S. Steel and Studebaker sold fractionally lower but American Can and Baldwin were both off more than a point.

Chesapeake & Ohio rose over a point. Call money was at 2½ per cent.

In the afternoon there was point or more losses for Allied Chemical, International Nickel Corporation, Producers, du Pont, General Electric, Gulf States, Maxwell "A," American Hardware, Detroit Edison, Pacific Gas & Electric Marine, preferred, Mack, National Lead, N. Y. Yellow Cab, Tobacco Products, Union Carbide, Iron Pipe, Fisher Body was lowered 4.

Weakness of the foreign exchanges and reports of a considerable increase in crude oil production by the American Petroleum Institute were responsible for the selling pressure in the selling. Trading, however, was relatively light in volume.

On a scattered bit as a group, Atlantic Refining dropping nearly 5 points and General Asphalt, Texas Oil, Producers & Refiners and Sinclair losing a point or so, the last named duplicating its previous low of 1924.

In trading on the Stock Exchange in Boston Island Creek Coal was lower by 1¼ points, while North Atlantic Oyster Class A was up over a point, as was also New Cornelia. United Fruit suffered a point.

Sinclair Bonds Drop to Lowest 1924 Level

Several outstanding movements however were due to special developments. The abrupt decline in French francs influenced selling in French municipal issues, all of which displayed a heavy tone. Sinclair Consolidated Oil bonds were unmoved as reports of new financing persisted, the company is dropping 5 points to the lowest level this year. Confirming price movements marked dealings in the Wilson issues with losses of 3 points in the de being counterbalanced by a similar gain in the 7½s.

TEAPOT DOME OIL UNSUITED FOR NAVY

Washington, May 8.—In a committee-room destitute of spectators the details of oil production on Teapot Dome and Elk Hill were described today for the Senate Oil Committee by H. Foster Bain, director of the Bureau of Mines.

In recent weeks the crowds that thronged the hearing room have dwindled steadily, and today for the first time the committee began its public session with no one present except members, witnesses and newspapermen. It was the first meeting in a week.

In order to show that there was oil in Teapot Dome below the second well creek sand, Senator Walsh asked Bain about the drilling of a well in the third well creek sand. The witness said this well was producing about eighty barrels a day.

Seven or eight wells have been drilled under the Doheny lease on the Elk Hill Reserve, the director said, and have produced about 1,500,000 barrels. Most of them, he told the committee, were offset wells.

The actual average royalty paid by Doheny was 28 per cent. in December, the witness testified, and is now 26 per cent. He said there had been no new drilling under the Doheny lease since the Senate investigation began.

Director Bain declared the oil in Teapot Dome was not suitable for naval fuel use, and could not be economically prepared for such use. The storage, under the circumstances he said, was to exchange the Teapot Dome oil for other oil which was suitable for the Navy.

About eighty wells have been drilled on Teapot Dome under the Sinclair lease, Bain said.

Meanwhile E. C. Finney, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, H. C. Chandler, editor of the Los Angeles Times, and R. J. Downey, clerk of the Senate Oil Committee, were called before the Grand Jury investigating the oil leases.

WOMAN URGES MORE INTEREST IN THE BIBLE

New Englanders certainly do read and know their Bible. They know about their Ten Commandments. And they are not backward in saying what they think about both—good or bad.

The Contest Editor is convinced that the Bible is still the Best Seller in New England. From the deluge of letters, answering the pertinent questions: "Does the World Need a New Bible?" and "Are 'The Ten Commandments' Sufficient?", the Contest Editor is inclined to believe that the Bible is in every home library.

From Mrs. L. Lucas of No 14 Cardenio street, Fall River, comes the following letter:

"Let us have the old Bible and let us have the Ten Commandments—in every family. Let us be as interested in it as a woman is in a bargain counter or a man in ball games. The world will be better."

SHOULD BE REVAMPED.

On the other side of the fence is Alfred J. Langlois of Shawmut, Me. He advocates changes. An excerpt from his letter reads:

"What we really need in this civilized modern world is to discard the old Scriptures entirely, as out of date and entirely unsuited to this up-to-date era.

"Th Ten Commandments should be revamped along more positive lines in order to indicate to an anxious world just what to do in our daily lives, rather than what not to do."

Elsie Cumming of No. 26 Nelson street, Clinton, writes in her letter:

"We could not have a new Bible for the Bible is the word of God. Neither could we have another Ten Commandments, for they are the laws of God. What we want is more of the Bible read, preached and practiced."

ANCIENT THEORY.

At variance with Miss Cumming's views, is Viola S. Goldthwaite of No. 49 West Colt street, New London, Ct., another advocate of a change.

"This busy world of today not only needs but demands a new Bible," she declares. "To me the Bible has never meant anything more than an ancient theory, based on the minds of the theological writers of the long ago.

"The master minds of today could compile a much sweeter, cleaner and better inspiration for righteous living than what the present Bible affords us.

"Discard the Ten Commandments as there is not one man, woman or child living who has not broken God's law as it is written."

Mrs. Wilfred G. Higgins of No. 82 Warren street, Watertown, is firmly for the retention of present forms, however. She says in her letter:

"Long ago when the Bible came into being, it was intended to remain unchanged. Surely it is ignoring our Lord's commands if we change them.

"The Commandments are simple in their composition and easy enough to understand. No others could make them clearer.

COOLIDGE JAP PROPOSAL MAY BE REJECTED

Washington, May 8 (I.N.S.)—A storm of hurricane proportions was breaking in Congress today over the question of Japanese exclusion—and it was there that a week ago was considered settled.

The remarkable about-face of the conference committee of the Senate and House in agreeing to an extension until March 1, 1925, before exclusion becomes effective has kicked up a tempest that threatens serious complications before it blows itself out.

The conference committee agreed to the extension with reluctance and only at the express demand of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes. It was understood that Hughes made the matter a personal issue, and it was at his insistence that the President himself wrote in general the amendment which the committee finally agreed to submit to their respective houses.

Eighteen senators, led by Pacific Coast members, were seething with indignation today, and threatening to give the White House and State Department a sharp rebuke by promptly rejecting the amendment written in Mr. Coolidge's own handwriting.

It is unlikely a vote can be had until tomorrow, but it seemed certain today that neither the Senate nor the House will accept the date fixed by the President and Mr. Hughes.

CUBAN PATRIOT'S SON HELD IN OCALA, FLA.

Atlanta, Ga., May 8.—Ray Garcia, one of the three Cubans held at Ocala, Fla., in connection with alleged violation of the neutrality law, was son of General Garcia y Velez, president of the Veterans and Patriots' Association of Cuba, it was learned here today.

COLUMBUS TOLD OF 'ISLES IN THE WEST'

New York, May 8 (C.N.S.)—Two significant historical facts were revealed today with publication by Albert and Charles Bonle of "The Journal of First Voyage to America" by Christopher Columbus, based on documents found in 1820 in the archives of Madrid.

One is that long before Columbus discovered America, canoeans from the Western hemisphere visited Europe. The second is that Columbus was definitely informed of this, as well as the existence of "islands in the west," long a mooted question among American historians. It had long been believed that Columbus sailed to discover the wealth and jewels and mysteries of "The Indians" on mere guess work.

The new historical evidence is contained in a letter which Paul Toscanelli, a Florentine physician and celebrated astronomer, wrote to Columbus in 1474—eighteen years before the journey of discovery to America was made.

6 TAXI LEADERS HELD FOR EXTORTION

New York, May 8.—Two officers and four delegates of the Brotherhood of Taxi Chauffeurs of Greater New York appeared in court on charges of extortion preferred by operators of small fleets of cabs who alleged the defendants were demanding payment of $1 per cab from operators who have acceded to the Brotherhood's demands for 40 per cent. of all fares.

Francis O. French, cousin of William H. Vanderbilt, who recently surprised society by turning chauffeur, was a spectator in court.

Weeks a Handicap to Mr. Coolidge

President Coolidge has done a good deal of housecleaning in the official Cabinet he inherited. One spot that now most needs his broom is as yet untouched, the office of Secretary of War. It is held by a man unfitted by training, record or mental bias for the post, John Wingate Weeks of Massachusetts.

Trained as a banker for great corporations, he is a perfect representative of the plutocratic dictator which the possession of a banker's power sometimes develops. His public utterances exhibit his mind. Speaking to young America at the Commencement exercises of Western Reserve University at Cleveland, June 16, 1922, he said:

> The DIRECT PRIMARY has so palpably lessened the quality of men willing to serve in public affairs that prompt action should be taken to repeal or greatly modify it.

The real trouble, from Mr. Weeks' viewpoint, is that under direct primaries, rich bankers and corporation men like Mr. Weeks do not go into politics because they have no chance of nomination BY THE PEOPLE.

Just a year later, in June, 1923, Secretary of War Weeks devoted a commencement address at Brown University to attacking the initiative and the referendum, new part of the State Constitution of Massachusetts. They are, he said, "either passing fancies which are rapidly demonstrating their worthlessness, or they mark the beginning of the end of representative government."

In his opinion the only safe government is government by go-betweens (representatives). The people must not try to decide on legislation or candidates themselves. He says:

> When we turn toward A MORE COMPLETE DEMOCRACY, I believe we are lessening our ability to govern ourselves and weakening our governmental organization."

The trouble with government by "unhampered representatives" is that such too often represent not the people publicly but the corporations secretly.

The referendum is a great protection to the private virtue of a public man. It saves him from temptation sometimes difficult to withstand. The corporations do not try to buy a man when they know he cannot stay bought or cannot deliver to them when he is bought.

These remarks do not apply to Secretary of War Weeks, whose honesty is not questioned or impugned, but who is such a thoroughgoing guide and friend of the big private corporations that he is temperamentally incapable of representing the people with zeal or ability.

Mr. Weeks is a political liability that President Coolidge should not carry on the books he asks the people to approve.

Four Weeks of Boom

Springfield Is Advertising Through the Pulpits of America

Springfield is a shining and worthwhile example of what a hustling and smart host city can accomplish.

We have been pointing out the value of conventions and fairs for communities. The metropolis of western Massachusetts is affording the proof.

The annual exposition on the west side of the Connecticut has become a great success from the standpoints of attendance, exhibits and financial return.

Go there today or any day during the next three weeks and you will find hard work securing a hotel room. If you are lucky you may secure one from which the temporary guest has just checked out. But you had better wire for a reservation.

The Methodist national conference is being held there and will be in session the greater part of the month. This means caring for 3,500 delegates for four weeks. Not only have the hotels been overflowed, but many private homes have been called upon to take in the strangers.

For its size, Springfield has ample hotel accommodations, if it were not for the fact that it is a place of unusual enterprise. And, because of that fact, a movement is on foot to secure another large hostelry.

Does advertising pay? Springfield is next to Boston in New England in postoffice business. Springfield is justifying her policy of talking about herself. Other New England cities should emulate her example.

But Springfield ought to improve her Main street paving, make her Main street policemen wear better fitting coats and repair the apex of the roof of the waiting room of her north-side railroad station.

More Help for the Tourist

Here is a suggestion to the Boston Chamber of Commerce, intended to be helpful and offered in recognition of the value of one of its good ideas.

It has established an information station at Oliver Ames, Jr., square, near the Commonwealth avenue and Ipswich street entrance to the Fenway, which is rendering a popular service.

Motorists are told the location of hotels and the rates; the way to desired points and places of interest is explained; advice is volunteered as to what to see and when and how best to see it; and many visitors have testified to the courtesy of those in charge.

It is a service that is appreciated. It is a good thing for the reputation of Boston. It is a raising of an army of thankful witnesses to Boston thoughtfulness.

But the information station is closed on Sunday. It seems to us that is the day its greatest need. And this thought is inspired by the testimony of a number of travelers who have taken occasion to praise the good work.

May we also suggest that more of this work of guiding the traveler would redound to the credit of the Chamber and make for a more kindly estimate of New England.

And some signs along the outlying highways, telling the location of this station, would increase the service.

Too Original

There is such a thing as being too original.

Harry W. Moore, Ohio financier, said the other day:

"I used to think that success lay in being original. I tried to be different from everyone I knew. As a result I engaged in all sorts of enterprises; mostly making money and losing it again."

Then he said he decided that his philosophy of life was all wrong. He adopted a systematic method of living, married and planned a family and found success pursuing him.

It is well enough to be a clever genius, but if you are going to buck all the bedrock conventions and cast away normalcy and simplicity you will have to be very clever indeed.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

Why does disappointment in marriage always seem to keep a woman younger and more attractive than contentment?

* * *

You'd fancy that worry and heartache and dissipation would age a woman more quickly than happiness. But they don't—they stimulate her.

Helen Rowland

* * *

That's why a divorcee always holds onto her girlish figure and her "pep" longer than a married woman.

* * *

She has never had a CHANCE to slump down into "that married feeling."

* * *

She hasn't acquired the "Ho hum! Now-it's-all-over" attitude.

* * *

Nor the "Now-I've got-him-what's-he-going-to-do-about-it" feeling.

* * *

Nor the "Why-bother-he-loves-me-no-matter-how-I-look" attitude.

* * *

She has never enjoyed that sweet but dangerous sense of SECURITY, which acts like a lullaby on a woman's vanity.

* * *

That sense of security which makes her put away her scented note-paper and write to her husband on the back of an old laundry bill.

* * *

Which makes her mind so easy that she can sleep and eat herself into fatty degeneration of the heart and figure and brain.

* * *

Which makes her give up her accomplishments, her sachets, her coquetry and her interests, give in to her appetite, and read nothing but the bargain sheet and the grocery book.

* * *

Which gradually washes all the color out of her personality and turns her from a wild rose or an orchid—into a cabbage.

* * *

* * *

Which makes her stop laughing at his wit, stop trying to understand his politics, yield to a yawn and forget the morning kiss.

* * *

Oh, it's a Lorelei song, a delicious, deadly thing—that warm, sweet bath of contentment—that "settled" feeling.

* *

But the disappointed wife has learned that in these days there is nothing SECURE about marriage—not even the alimony.

* * *

She knows that marriage is the end of a girl's struggles and problems—and she has found out WHICH end!

* * *

She HAS to keep up her looks, her "pep," her charm and her enthusiasm, if only to "show HIM" and the world that she is not "down"—much less "out of the running."

Any Clothes for Twins?

Editor Helping Hand:

I am not well and have one little girl and a pair of twins only two months old. One of them has been very sick in the hospital. I am kept very busy. If you have anything in the line of baby clothes, preferably short clothes, to dispose of, they would be very acceptable to me.

MRS. F. H. C.

Wheel Chair Placed

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a wheel chair which I now have no use for. I thought it might be of use to some helpless one, so if you know of one who would like it and can come and get it I will be glad to give it to them. Please have them let me know when they will come, as I am not home all the time.

MISS M. M. F.

Thank you. We have asked Mrs. S. M. H. to call for the wheel chair you so generously offer. Her husband has recently had a shock and is too heavy for her to move about.

Pleads for Friend

Editor Helping Hand:

I am writing to you for a friend to see if some kind reader can help her. She is in destitute circumstances, her husband having had no employment for months. She has three little ones, a little girl 5 years, a boy 3 and a baby one year, and soon to have another. They made a quantity of fine maple syrup hoping to sell it, but as the market is flooded they are unable to dispose of it, cannot even give it in trade. I hope you can help her as anything would be greatly appreciated. Her name is MRS. M. C. S.

Large Box of Gifts

Editor Helping Hand:

I have packed in one large box quite a number of articles which I would gladly give to a family if they call for it. There are for a man, a cap, derby, and soft hat, two suits underwear and one tweed suit, size 38. For a girl, a dress, size 12 to 14, pair of sandals, size 4, and underclothes. For a woman, three pairs of shoes, size 3. For a boy, age 4 to 5, a bathing suit, two coats, spring and winter. There are also many small pieces of cloth.

MRS. I. S.

Thank you for your most generous offer. We have asked Mrs. F. F. to call as her family can use what you offer.

$5 for Mary U.

Editor Helping Hand:

Your evening paper of April 29th in the Helping Hand Column has a call from a sick girl in need, Mary U. Please cash this check and see that Mary U. is given the money or serviceable thing of its value, and may God bless her.

A. J. D.

Many thanks. We have done as you desired and forwarded the five dollars to Mary U., as her mother can best tell what is most needed.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

To every man a dower as he goes his way on earth; to every one a heritage that comes to him at birth. To some it is of humble joys that bless a lowly race, to some the splendid pomp and pride that go with princely place. To one it is a friendly wit that, like a trusty guide, is ever ready night and day, still waiting at his side. DR. FRANK CRANE ON THE RULES OF THE GAME

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is no game that can possibly be played without keeping the rules. You cannot even play solitaire and get any fun out of it, if you cheat yourself.

But most games are played with others and, if you do not keep the rules, the game suddenly comes to an end.

Every sort of human activity depends, for its pleasure and usefulness, upon laws of one sort or another.

You cannot get any good out of arithmetic if you insist that two and two equals five. Two and two must always equal four, even if the result is disaster.

Boys and girls can get no advantage from schooling unless they keep the rules of the schoolroom. If everyone does as he pleases the schoolroom is soon degenerated into an animal cage.

Everyone knows that no army can be successful unless there is strict adherence to the rules. Soldiers do not keep step merely to please the commander; they keep step because, if they didn't, they would be falling over each other.

You cannot have a successful business without obedience to rules.

You cannot enjoy a game of golf, or even of checkers or of marbles unless you keep the rules.

You could not ride along the street in your automobile unless you and others obeyed the rules of the road.

If every motorist did as he pleased he would be in the ditch or up against a lamppost before he had gone two blocks. You cannot even go to an anarchist meeting and pass a resolution denouncing the government if everybody talks at once and nobody pays attention to his neighbor.

And morality itself is practically nothing more than keeping the rules of the game. The most deeply immoral person is the one who does as he pleases. He is not only immoral but he is extremely likely to be taken to the hospital.

Keeping the rules of the game is the only way in which the weak can be protected. Where there is no law nor respect for law there is the absolute tyranny of the strongest.

The purpose of rules in a game is to enable the players to have fun. Fools imagine that the purpose of rules is to keep people from having fun.

Enjoyment is the legitimate son of order.

You cannot even get enjoyment out of making love unless you keep the rules of the game. For the great problem in love is not to fall in love, you can do that as easily as you can fall over a cliff, the problem is to stay in love, to have love minister to life. And the only people who stay in love are those who keep the rules of the game.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON LIFE ON THE MOON

By Garrett P. Serviss,
Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

Whoever asserts that he has discovered evidences of life upon the moon will always be sure of thrilling his hearers. Everybody knows that the moon is very near to the earth, as astronomical distances go; in fact, it hardly more than a terrestrial distance that is concerned; ten times around the earth being another more than once from the earth to the moon.

Moreover, the moon, there is reason to believe, is physically the child of the earth—bone of its home. Why, then, shouldn't it have life as well as its mother?

When you look at the moon through a telescope, even a small one, magnifying no more than 50 diameters, you are astonished, and your imagination is ravished, by the strange earth-like spectacle before your eyes. Yet the moon looks like an abandoned earth—white, and cold, and barren. A world of chalk mountains and stern, dried-up plains. Besides, it has undergone the most fearful catastrophe that a world could pass through and yet retain the form of a globe, and the marks of this catastrophe are everywhere visible on its wonderful surface. Some of the larger lunar scars you can see with an ordinary binocular or even an opera-glass.

They re like shell-holes, from thirty to eight miles across, and several miles in depth. In many places they break into one another like the crowded bomb-pits on the deserted hills around Verdun when the battle was at its fiercest. Thousands of them, from a mile to fifty miles in diameter, cover millions of square miles of the lunar surface.

Under the gray plains (called "seals" by the astronomers of Galileo's day), careful observation, aided by photography, reveals signs of an older lunar world, which seems to have been submerged by an awful upwelling of oceans of molten rock!

When we become aware of these things, we may well ask ourselves, not "Why should not the moon have life?" but, "How could any kind of life survive on a world that has been through so frightful an experience as that?"

Yet, there are a few astronomers, who persist in believing that after all, and in spite of all, there is still life upon the moon. And most strange, the supposed indications of life are almost always reported in or near the terrible chasms and circular sinkholes called lunar volcanoes.

The great contrasts between our volcanoes on the earth and these strange gigantic formations on the moon is graphically exhibited in our sectional sketch, showing at one a typical terrestrial volcano like Pasul, like Cotopaxi, and below a typical lunar crater, such as Eratosthenes. Usually there is a group of steep peaks, looking like minor volcanoes, in the center of the floors of these immense chasms on the moon. The dark line shows how deep the floor is sunk below the general surface of the moon. On the other hand, terrestrial craters are found at the tops of mountains built up by the volcanic action.

I have mentioned Eratosthenes, because it is in its vast sunken basin that Professor William H. Pickering has long been studying, with the telescope, remarkable changes of form and shading, which he believes to be due to vegetation growing there, and lately Mr. G. H. Hamilton, of the Lowell Observatory, having gone to Jamaica and studied the same phenomena with Professor Pickering's telescope, has announced a similar conclusion. If this turns out to be correct it will lead to a revolution in our views about the earth's nearest neighbor.

SAVE, SAVE, SAVE, BECAUSE IT TAKES MONEY TO MAKE MONEY

What is your philosophy of life—to have a good time at the present and let the future take care of itself?

At times have you not considered the man whom you knew to be well-to-do, who has seemed to be working for one object only, to be prepared for old age, as about as foolish as possible?

You have said, "What will that man have to think about in his old age—nothing but work and grind," and then you have told yourself that life would not be worth it to you, if you must miss so much of pleasure.

You think perhaps that it would take twenty or thirty years of hard, steady plugging to prepare for ease and comfort in the remaining ten or fifteen years, and you are not willing to give up the best part of your life that way.

The trouble with this line of thought is that it carries you to extremes.

Would it not be possible for you to have a fairly good time and also make some preparation for the future, if you are unwilling a sacrifice in a greater degree.

You cannot expect to live up to your salary all the time, and thus deprive yourself of the money which is needed to take advantage of investment opportunities, and ever get ahead.

It takes money to make money.
